Ne, is first sometimes an Aduerbe of Distinction, or as some count it of Deniall or Refusall, and is commonly without a verbe, and in the beginning of sentences, signifying in English, Nor or Neither, and then it is vsually accented, as in these examples: Nè ti sóno amíco, nè áncó lo uóglío èssere, perchè nè tù lo mèriti, nè si conuiène. Or otherwise, Nè quèsto nè quèllo ti concèdo, imperochè nè mi ámi, nè mi puói uedére, &c.

Nè, serueth secondly for an Aduerbe locall or of place, or rather as some call it a Preposition, but then must the Article, I, bee vnderstood or implied, whether it be apostrophed or no, and signifieth in English, In, or In the; as for example: Spasseggiándo ne' cámpi m'incontrái nè mièi amici, or else, Ne' líbri si lèggono molte cóse, ne' sáuij si truóuano i buóni consígli, et ne' uitij si pèrdono molti, &c.

Ne, thirdly being ioined vnto Verbes as often it is, either before or after, hath these three following significations, first it serueth for an Aduerbe of place, Hence, Thence or away, but then must the verbes euer bee of motion, as Andáre, Fuggíre, Veníre, &c. as for example, Io me ne uádo a spáso: uolendosene andáre; lui se ne è fuggíto, Io me ne uènni uía, &c.

Ne, fourthly serueth for the Pronoune primitiue Noì or Ci, and is euer of the Datiue or Accusatiue cases, to vs, or vs, except with verbes of Priuation, with which it is of the Ablatiue, from vs, as for example: vedèndone giuocáre, lui ne diède denári. Incontrándone, lui ne diède il buón giòrno, lui ne hà tólto il nóstro ripóso, et furátone i denári.

Ne, lastly and fiftly doth most often and commonly serue for an Aduerbe of quantitie, signifying in English, Some, None, Part of, Any, Of it, Of them, Thereof, hauing euer relation to the chiefe Substantiue spoken of or mentioned in the sentence, as reciprocally vnto it, and is most elegantly so often vsed to auoide iteration thereof, as for example: Signór mío, uoi mi domandáte denári, Io non ne hò, se ne hauéssi, ve ne farèi páрте, quándo ne hauerò, uoi ne potréte dispórre, mi dispiáce non hauérne, uísto che tánti altri ne hánno, che non ne sóno dégni, which may thus be englished: Sir, you aske me some money, I have none, had I any, I would impart some vnto you, when I shall haue any, you shall dispose thereof. I am sorry I haue none, seeing so many others to haue some, that are not worthy of it, &c. Read of this so necessarie Particle Ne, more at large in my rules.

Of Pronunciation.

The Italian tongue is pronounced as it is written, and written as it is pronounced: No letter of it is lost or altered but G. & that chiefly when N. followeth the same, as in these wordes. Ingégno, Mágno, Pégno, Ségno, Sdégno, &c. which then is pronounced much like the English word Onion, as if an I. were included between the N. and the vowell following: It is likewise somewhat lost when Li. followes it, as in these, and infinite other wordes, Fíglío, Móglie, Quégli, Tógliere, and then it is pronounced as the Welchmen and Spaniards pronounce their double Ll. in Lloid, and Quéllo, or as the French men doe their double Ll. after an I. as in their words Fille, Estrille, Merueille, &c. except in the word Negligénza, where it is pronounced as in the Latine, or in this English word Gleeke.

Note that C. before A. O. and V. is euer pronounced as K. in English: which the Italians neuer vse, as in these wordes. Cása, Cásta, Cóllo, Cósa, Cúlla, Custóde, &c. Whereas before E. and I. it is euer pronounced as Ch in English, as in these wordes, Celèste, Cèlebre, Cíbo, Cínto, as you doe in these English wordes, Cheape, Cheries, Children, Cheese, and such.

Note that whensoever C. is double before A. O. and V. it is euer pronounced as double K. in English, as Accasáre, Accadére, Accomodáre, Accostáre, Accumuláre, Accusáre, &c. whereas if it come double before E. and I. as in these wordes Eccèdere, Eccellènte, Accióche, Vccídere, Vccisióné, you must pronounce the first C. as a T. as if they were written, Etcèdere, Etcellènte, Atcióche, Vtcídere, Vtcisióné, &c.

Note that Ch. is at all times, and in all Italian wordes pronounced as the letter K. in English, as in these wordes, Chè, Chénte, Chì, Chiúnque, euen as you doe in these English wordes, Kettle, Kent, Keeper, Kindred, &c.

Note that the rule giuen for C. may also serue for the letter G. for before A. O. and V. it is pronounced as in English, as Gámba, Góndola, Gúglia, &c. as Gad, God, Good: whereas before E. and I. it is pronounced as the I. being a consonant in English wordes, as Gentíle, Ginócchio, &c. and Ghe. in Italian is pronounced as Gue. or Gui. in English, as Ghermíre, Ghirlánda, as in these wordes, Gealding, Guilt, &c. and if G. be double before A. O. and V. pronounce it as you doe in English, but being double before E. or I. as in these wordes, Lèggere, Leggiéro, Lóggia, Loggiáre. You must pronounce the first G. as it were a D. euen as you doe in these English wordes, Hedge, Pledge, Dredge, Madge, Lodge, Drudge, &c.

For so much as the Italians haue two very different sounds for the two vowels, E. and O. which for distinctions sake, they name the one close and the other open, and that I neuer yet saw booke printed with their differences but one, which was the Familiar letters of that learned man Claudio Tolomèi, and that no rule hath yet beene giuen in so many of their tedious Grammars for the helpe of the learner, or for the right vse of them; to ease him, and teach him to auoide the many errors that diuers commit (namely my countrey men the English) in not giuing them their right sounds, I haue thought it most convenient to say something of them.

Note then that throughout all my Dictionarie I haue caused two seuerall E. and two different O. to be cast and vsed, whereby the reader and learner may assuredly know how to pronounce them right, and giue them their proper and due sounds.

The close E. hath euer this forme, e. and is pronouced as the English E. or Ea. as in these wordes, Bell, Beane, Den, Deane, Fell, Flea, Meade, Quell, Sell, Tell, &c. and the open E. hath this forme \acute{e} which is euer pronounced as Ai. in English, as in these words Baile, Baine, Daine, Faile, Flaile, Maide, Quaile, Saile, Taile, &c.

The close E. is seene in these Italian wordes, Béne, Béuere, Sedére, Tenére, Vedére, and infinite others, and the open E. in these, Bèllo, Bèstia, Sèlla, Sèdia, Tèsta, Tèrra, Vèrro, Vèste, &c.

So likewise to the close O. I haue throughout my booke giuen this oualle forme O. and to the open this round forme O. The first, close or oualle is euer pronounced as the English single V. in these wordes, Bun, Dug, Flud, Gud, Rud, Stun, Tun, &c. whereas the other round or open is euer pronounced as our O. in these wordes, Bone, Dog, Flow, God, Rod, Stone, Tone, &c. as for example in these Italian wordes, Io honóro il mío Dío cón ógni diuotióné, where euery O. is close and oualle. And in these, lúi mi vuóle tórre la mia tórre; or else, lúi mi hà rósa la mia rósa: where Tórre with an open or round O. is a verbe and signifieth to take, and tórre with a close or oualle O. is a nounge substantiue, and signifieth a tower; and Rósa with an oualle and close O. is a participle of the verbe Ródere, and signifieth Gnawne or Nibled, and Rósa with a round or open O. is a nounge substantiue, and signifieth the floure that we call a Rose.

I could with many amplifications insist vpon these two letters, but because I desire to shunne prolixity, and adresse mine endeauours to reasonable creatures, and no Critikes, I thinke this sufficient, & for a triall referre them to my Dictionarie, where they may perceiue euery word truly accented, which was yet neuer seen in any printed booke of what language soeuer, and which was only done for her sacred Maiestie, whom alone next to God I desire to serue and satisfie, which if shee be, I haue my desire, I aime no further, and care not for the vulgar.

Note that I. is neuer consonant in the Italian tongue, but euer a vowell, and is commonly pronounced as double Ee. in English, as in these words, Biáncó, Gridáre, Gíro, Líbro, Mirácolo, Nído, Siréna, Tíro, Vilúppo, &c. as you doe in these English words, Bee, Creeke, Greene, Lee, Neede, Meede, Queene, Seene, Speede, Reede, Seede, Tree, Weede, &c.

Note that Sce, and Sci, as in these Italian wordes Scèmpio, Sceleráto, Scilinguáto, Scimoníto, &c. are euer pronounced as you doe Sh. in these English words, Shame, Shent, Sheepe, Ship, &c.

Note that V. in the beginning, and sometimes in the middle of words, namely another vowell following the same, is euen a consonant, as in Várió, Vedére, Veníre, Antiuedére, Preueníre, &c. but being a vowell, as in these words, Cúra, Furóre, Manducáre, Natúra, Púto, Rúta, &c. it is commonly pronounced as double Oo. in English, as in these words, Foode, Moode, Good, Moote, Roode, Stooode, Wood, &c.

Note that the coniunction copulatiue Et. Ed. or E. comming before a vowell it ought to be pronounced Et. or Ed. as for example, António, èt Andrèa, èt ío siámo trè, or else, António, èd Andrèa èd ío siámo trè. whereof the latter is the most elegant. Whereas before consonants it ought to be pronounced but as single open E. as for example, Io, è tù, è lui, è tútti gli áltri nón facciámo chè vn córpo, except sometimes in verse by Poètica Licèntza, which among Italians is very great.

Note that when two Zz. come together betweene two vowels, as in these words, Bèllézza, Cèrtézza, Grandézza, Fortézza, &c. you ought to pronounce the first Z. as a T. as if they were written Bèllétza, Cèrtétza, Fortétza, Grandétza, &c. except in these words, Mèzzáno, Mèzzo, Lèzzo, Rèzzo, Rózzo, and some few others, where the first Z. is pronounced as a D. as if they were written, Mèdzáno, Mèdzo, Lèdzo, Rèdzo, Ródzo, &c. all which words were better written and printed with a single Z. then with a double.

Note also that when Z. commeth betweene a vowell and a consonant, as in these words, Ammorzáre, Fórza, Scórza, Sénza, &c. you ought to pronounce the same Z. as if a T. did goe before it, as if they were written, Ammortzáre, Fórtza, Scórtza, Séntza, &c.

Thus much I thinke sufficient for the pronounciation.

Of the Articles of the Italian tongue, and of the frequent vse of them.

Note that there is no part of speech more necessary to be truly knowen of him that learneth Italian, then the Articles, forsomuch as without them no man can perfectly distinguish of genders, which are two, Masculine and Feminine; of numbers, which are also two, Singular and Plurall; and of Cases, which are sixe; Nominatiue, Genitiue, Datiue, Accusatiue, Vocatiue, and Ablatiue; and no language hath so frequent vse of them, as the Italian, I haue therefore set them downe, and how they are to be declined and vsed. The Articles are in number seuen: fiue of the Masculine, and two of the Feminine genders. Of the fiue Masculine, two are of the Singular, and three of the Plurall number. Of the two Feminine, one is of the Singular, and one of the Plurall number.

The fiue articles of the Masculine gender are.

Of the true vse of these Articles.

Note that Il and I, are commonly and ought to be vsed before nounes or words that begin with consonants, as Il béne, Il dólce, Il Mále, Il líbro, Il Príncipe, Il Rè, &c. I béni, I dólci, I máli, I líbri, I Príncipi, I Rè, &c.

Note that L'ó, and Gli, are or els ought euer to be vsed before nounes or words beginning with vowels, and are commonly by the best Speakers or Writers apostrophed, and pronounced together as they were but one word, as L'abbáte, L'altáre, L'Angelo, L'amóre, L'ódio, &c. gl'abbáti, gl'altári, gl'Angeli, gl'amóri, gl'ódij, &c.

Note that forsmuch as good Italians shun as a thing most harsh among them, to haue or vse many consonants together, namely aboue two, seldome three, and never foure; and that there be diuers words of the Masculine gender that begin with S. and one or more consonants follow the same, as Spirito, Strále, Stráccio, Stromènto, &c. Before such words they will not, according to the foresaid rule, vse the Articles Il, and I, but will say and write, as being more pleasing in pronouncing, and to the eare, lo Spírito, lo Stráccio, lo Strále, lo Stromènto, gli Spíriti, gli Stráccij, gli Stráli, gli Stromènti, &c.

Note that the Article Li, is and may indifferently be vsed before consonants or vowels, as Li árbori, li cittadíni, li quáli, &c. and I am of opinion that were it not that some ancient Writers haue vsed the same, moderne Writers would not much vse it.

Note that La, and Le, before vowels are vsually apostrophed and pronounced as one word, whereas before consonants they are written and pronounced seuerally: as for example, L'acqua, l'ánima, l'altézza, l'acque, l'ánime, l'altézze, &c. La bálla, la Cárne, la fáccia, la ménte, la tèrra, &c. Le bálle, le Carni, le fáccie, le ménti, le tèrre, &c.

Note that the foresaid particles are not euer or properly articles, except they be ioyned vnto absolute nounes, whether substantiues, adiectiues, or proper: for if they be affixed vnto verbes (as they are very often) they change their property, and become pronounes deriuatiues from the primitiues, or else demonstratiues of the Datiue and Accusatiue cases, as for example; Io gli diédi, I gaue him: Io il víddi, I saw him: Tù lo conósci, thou knowest him: Tù i Sénti, thou hearest them, Tù la tóchi, thou touchest her: Tù le fai mále, thou dost her hurt: and with verbes of priuation, as hereafter shall be better declared, Gli, and li, and le become of the Ablatiue case: as for example; Tù gli rubásti, thou stolest from him, or them. Tu li tollésti, thou tookest from him or them: Tu la furásti, thou stolest from her.

Note also that these two Articles La and Li are sometimes aduerbes of place, signifying There, or in that place, and then they are commonly accented, as Là and Lì.

Note that to the Articles are diuers times affixed these prepositions, as Di of the Genitiue case, A of the Datiue, and Da of the Ablatiue; which so ioyned, make of the Genitiue Del, Dell', Déi, De', Déllo, Dégli, Délli, Délla, Delle, and of the Datiue Al, All', Ai, A', Allo, Agli, Alli, Alla, Alle, and of the Ablatiue Dál, Dáll', Dái, Da', Dállo, Dágli, Dállì, Dálle, Dálle; which sometimes are in the Italian tongue diuersly vsed, and lose their ordinary significations: as for example; those of the Genitiue case become somtimes the signe of a comparison, in English, Then, or Then the, namely, after the Aduerbs of quantity, Più, or Méno, as thus: Tù Sèi più dótto di mè, mà nón già déll'amíco nóstro. Other times following a verbe and being before a nounce substantiue, whose quality may be diuisible, they become Aduerbs of quantity, and signifie Some, or part of, as thus, Dámmi dél páne è dél vino, èt io tì darò délla cárne, dégl'óssi, è dél pésce.

Note that Alla, being placed before any noun adiective, it makes the same an aduerbe of similitude; like vnto, or after the fashion of, as thus, Io procédo álla reále, I proceed like vnto an honest man, or honest-man-like. Or thus, Lui párla all'Italiána, v²este álla Francése, béue álla Todésca, &c. He speaketh after the Italian fashion, clotheth after the French, and drinkes after the Dutch manner, &c.

And euen so doth Da, being placed before a noun substantiue, as thus, Io procédo da huómo da béne, t² v²esti da capitáno, párla da Dottóre, è fáa da poltróne.

Note that all the Dative cases A, Al, All', Allo, Alla, Ai, A', Agli, Alli, Alle, as also all these Articles, Affixes, or Pronouns deriuatiues, Mi, Ti, Si, Ci, Vi, Me, Te, Se, Ce, Ve, Ne, which are of the Dative case, if any of them be affixed to any verbes of priuation, as Ascóndere, Furáre, Rubbáre, Tógliere, &c. contrary to all rules (and which was yet neuer noted in any Grammar that I haue seene) they all become of the Ablative case, and with no other verbes, as thus, Io hò leuáte le fórze a', or, alli miéi amici, T² mi t'ascóndi, T² ci hai furáti i nostri líbri; Dio vi torrà i vóstri piaceri, vói ne hauéte tólto il nóstro ripóso. I peccatóri non si póssono nascóndere á Dío, &c. which be meere Italianismes.

Note also that the Preposition of the Ablative case Da. whether alone or ioyned to any Article, as Dál, Dai, Dállo, Dágli, Dálly, Dálly, Dálle, comming after any of these verbes of motion, Andáre, Córre, Fuggíre, Veníre, &c. so that the party or persons to whom you goe, runne, flie, or come, be named or mentioned, contrary to all rules giuen in Grammars, they become of the Dative case. As for example, Andádo dal Signór Páolo, Córri dálla Signóra María, voléndo fuggíre dalli Signóri Thomaso èd Andréa, vénni dal Signór Henrico, &c.

Note also that the preposition of the Ablative case Da. comming before any Noun numerall or number, it serueth for the Preposition, Círca or Intórno, in English, About, as thus. Érano da venti soldáti. They were about twenty souldiers. Io vi trouái da diéci huómyni da béne. There I found about ten honest men, &c.

Note also that Da, or Da' are likewise often vsed for an Aduerbe of exception, sauing or except: but then the thing excepted must immediately follow Da, and Infuóri or in pói, must succede the same, as Io truouo mólte cóse da denári in fuóri. Tútti sóno huómini da béne da' furbi in pói. &c.

Note that these prepositions, Con, Pèr, In, Nón, are often ioyned vnto Articles, and made as one word or sillable, as for Con il. Con i. Con lo. Con gli. Con la. Con le. the Italians will say and write. Col tẽmpo. Coi líbri. Co' fratelli. Coll'amóre. Cogl'ódij. Cóllo mádre. Cólle sorèlle, &c. in English, with or with the.

In steede of, Pèr il. Pèr i. Pèr lo. Pèr gli. Pèr li. Pèr la. Pèr le. They say and write. Pèl. Pèi. Pè', Pèllo. Pègli. Pèlli. Pèlla. Pèlle. For, Through, or by the.

In steede of, In il. In i. In lo. In gli. In li. In la. In le. They say and write, Nél. Nei. Ne'. Nélllo. Négli, Nélli. Nélla. Nélle. In English, In, Into, or in the.

In steede of, Non il. Non i. Non lo. Non gli. Non li. Non la. Non le. They say and write, Nol. Noi. No'. Nóllo. Nógli. Nóllo. Nóllo. Nólle. In English, Not the, not him, not her, or not them, &c. Let this suffice for the Articles and the vse of them.

Of Nounes in generall, namely of Substantiuies, and of the vse of them.

A Noun is properly any thing of Essence or Substance, which may either be touched, seene, or imagined, as Árbore, Córno, Fióre, Sáссо, &c. Sóle, Lúna, Cièlo, Stélla, &c. Dío, Ánima, Speránza, Paradíso, &c.

Note that all Italian Nounes, both Substantiuies, Adiectiuies, and Proper, be either of the Masculine or Feminine genders, and that most of them be either meerely Latine, or deriued of the Latine. Those that be Latine, haue only the Ablatiue case singular of the same, which serueth for all cases singular of the Italian, and only the Articles distinguish both genders and numbers; so that whosoever knowes the Articles perfectly, and learneth to decline but one Noun, shall thereby know how to decline all. I will not therefore be tedious.

Note that all Masculine Nounes in the singular number, end and terminate either in O. or in E. or in A. and all in I. in the Plurall, except some few heteroclites, whereof shall be spoken hereafter, as for example. Il Castèllo, Il Cièlo, Il líbro, Il tèmpo, L'ódio, L'orgóglio, &c. I castèlli, I cièli, I líbri, I tèmpi, Gl'ódij, gl'orgógli, &c. Il fiúme, Il nóme, Il pádre, Il sánque, Il túrbine, &c. I fiúmi, I nómi, I pádri, I sánqui, I túrbini, &c. Il Dúca, Il Poèta, Il Profèta, l'Euangelísta, &c. I Dúchi, I Poèti, I Prophèti, Gl'Euangelisti, &c.

Note that most of Italian Feminine nounes end in the singular either in A. or in E. if in A. then in E. in the plurall. As for example, La bálla. la cárta. la tèrra. la táuola, &c. Le bálle. le cárte. le tèrre. le táuole. &c. L'ácqua. L'ánima. L'ácque. L'ánime. &c. And if in E. in the singular, then in I. in the plurall, as for example, La consuetúdine. La mádre. La ménte. La salúte. &c. Le consuetúdini. Le mádri. Le ménti. Le salúti, &c. L'occasióne. L'occasióni. One only Feminine noune endeth in O. that is, La máno, which in the plurall endeth in I. as Le máni.

Note that all Feminine nounes that in their Ablatiue case singular of the Latin end in Áte, or V'te. The Italians (namely in prose) reiect and loose the last sillable Té, and take the rest, euer placing an accent ouer the last A. or V. making Singular and Plurall all one, which they distinguish by the Articles, or by the Adiectiues, or by the Pronounes ioyned vnto them, as for example, La Città. La qualità. La quantità. La realità. &c. Le città. Le qualità. Le quantità. Le realità. &c. La giouentù. La seruitù. La vertù. &c. Le giouentù. Le seruitù. Le vertù. &c. Yet obserue that Poets may, and doe often dispence with this rule: for at their pleasure they may vse both, yea and often change Te into De, as for example. La città. la cittàate. la cittàade. La qualità. la qualitàte. la qualitàde. La vertù. la vertúte. la vertúde. &c. Le città. le cittàati. le cittàadi. Le qualità. le qualitàti. le qualitàdi. Le vertù. le vertúti. le vertúdi. &c.

Note that all Italian Feminine nounes that end in Ántia or Éntia, may at the pleasure of the speaker or writer, end in Anza or Enza, and Tuscans count the latter the best, as thus Abondántia, Abondánza. Vigilántia, Vigilánza, &c. Diligéntia, Diligénza, Patiéntia, Patiénza, &c.

Note that all Italian Masculine Nounes, that in the singular end in Io. whereof there are many, should in the plurall end in ij. as for example. Essêrcítio, Ódio, Ótio, Vítio, Essêrcítij, Ódij, Ótij, Têmpij, Vitij, &c.

Note that most of those Latine Nounes that in their Ablatiue case singular end in Ine. as Flúmine, Nómine, Ságuine, the Italians loose and reiect that sillable Ne, and changing the I. into E. they say. Fiúme, Nóme, Sángue, excepting Hómine, whereof they frame Huómo in the singular, and Huómini in the plurall, yet vse they to say, Fúlmine, Túrbine, Fúlmini, Túrbini.

Note that adding an Article of the Masculine gender to any Infinitive moode, the same becommeth a Noun substantive, a thing much vsed among the Italians, as also by putting a Pronoun demonstrative before them, as thus. Il mio descinare non mi cósta nùlla. Il dormire di giórno non ẽ sano. L'amare il móndo non piáce a Dio. Quésto tánto studiare non vi gióua. Quésto vóstro lèggere vi darà nóia. Quéllo Córre in frétta fà cadére, &c.

Note that the Italians haue a certaine liberty in framing Substantives or rather Nicknames, according to their diuers humours or capriccios, a thing much vsed among them: and that is, by taking the third person singular of the Present tence of the Indicative moode of any verbe of the first Coniugation, or else the scond person singular of the same Tence and Moode of all Verbs of the second, third, and fourth Coniugations, and putting any substantive noun to the same, as for example. Vn Caua-dénti, a Tooth-drawer. Vn Spázza-camíno, a Chimney-sweeper. Vn Vendi-légna, a Wood-seller, Vn Sórbi-bródo, a Broth-supper, &c.

Note that in Nounes of Trees and Fruits in the Italian tongue, the trees should euer be of the Masculine gender, and the fruits of the Feminine. As for example, Castágno, a Chesse-nut-tree, Castágna, a Chesse-nut, Mándorlo, an Almond-tree, Mándorla, an Almond, Péro, a Peare-tree, Péra, a Peare, Póomo, an Apple-tree, Póma, an Apple, Pêrsico, a Peach-tree, Pêrsica, a Peach, Prúno, a Plum-tree, Prúna, a Plum, &c.

Note that taking the name of any manuell thing or wrought by hand, so it be euer made to end in A. as Bottóne, Bótte, Capêllo, Guánto, Libro, Candéla, Cárta, Sêlla, Spáda, &c. and ioyning Ro. or Io. vnto it, you make substantiue the professor or workeman of that trade, as thus. Bottonáro, Bottonáio, Bottáro, Bottáio, Capêlláro, Capêlláio, Guantáro, Guantáio, Libráro, Libráio, Candeláro, Candeláio, Cartáro, Cartáio, Sêlláro, Sêlláio, Spadáro, Spadáio.

Note that taking the Participle of any verbe actiue, and putting Re. vnto the same, you make a substantiue that expresth the actor of that verbe, as thus. Balláto, Danced, Ballatóre, a Dancer, Amáto, Loued, Amatóre, a Louer, Cantáto, Sung, Cantatóre, a Singer, Governáto, Governed, Governatóre, a Governour, Létto, Read, Léttóre, a Reader, Scrítto, Written, Scrittóre, a Writer, Vdíto, Heard, Vditóre, a Hearer, &c. All which you may make of the Feminine gender by changing, Tóre into Tríce. as thus. Amatríce, Ballatríce, Cantatríce, Governatríce, Létríce, Scittríce, Vditríce. &c.

Note that some late good writers haue quaintly vsed to conuert Adiectiues into Substantiues, which being discreetly placed some deeme it a very elegant Italianisme, and that is by adding an Article to any Adiectiue, namely the Mas. gender, and Sing. number. As for example, Cól púro dél cuóre, con il cándido dell' ánimo, èt con il víuo déll'affétto, Io ámo il sincêro delle vóstre vertù, il dólce del vóstro procédere, mà non il dúro délla vóstra rigidézza, &c.

Note that the Italians haue foure Sustantiues of one sillable, that is to say Piè, Rè, Fè, and Grù, deriued of Piède, a Foote; of Rége, a king; of Féde, Faith, and of Grúe, a Crane. The first two are of the Mas. and the other two of the Fem. gender, and serue for both numbers and are euer accented.

Note that taking the name of manageable thing, so you make it of the Feminine gender ending in A. and ioyning Ta. vnto it, you may elegantly expresse substantiuely the power, effect, or blow of the same, as this, Arco, a Bow; Arcáta, a Blow or effect of a bow. Bastóne, Bastonáta, Coltèllo, Coltèlláta, Palétta, Palettáta, Pugnále, Pugnáláta, Sásson, Sassáta, &c.

Note that for as much as the Italians vnto certaine Nounes substantiuies of the Masculine gender, besides their owne and proper plurall, they giue them another, which in sound and writing seemeth to be of the Feminine gender and singular number ending in A. and yet hath the Article, the Pronoune, or Adiectiue, that must gouerne the same of the Feminine gender and Plurall number, which they call heteroclites: and because this Feminine plurall is deemed to be the most elegant, and that there be but some few of them, I have therefore set downe here as many as I could remember, as followeth alphabetically.

There be some others that I remember not. Yet note that there be ancient Poets that make some of them end in Óra, as these, Láto, Cámpo, Luógo, Órto, Córpo, Práto, Rámo, &c. and in the Plurall say, Campóra, Corpóra, Latóra, Luogóra, Pratóra, Ortóra, &c. In steede of Cámpi, Córpi, Láti, Luóghi, Órti, Práti, &c. but are not generally allowed.

Note that the Italians haue a peculiar priuiledge more liuely to declare, and more succinctly to expresse the proper forme and quality of any primitiue, positiue, or radicall Nounes, then all other nation or languages, and which among them is very much vsed, both in speaking and writing, and is counted very quaint and elegant; and because it was neuer yet noted of any, and is so frequently vsed, I deeme the knowledge thereof to be most necessary, and thinke it behooffull to be declared vnto your soueraigne Maiesty; which is, by adding certaine terminations or sillables vnto any primitiue or positiue nounes, as for example, Íno, Étto, V´ccio, Ótto, Óne, Áccio; for these are most used. What nune soeuer endeth in Íno, sheweth the same to be very little, small, and the least that may be. What nune soeuer endeth in Étto, declares the same to be both very little, and therewithall quaint and pretty. What nune soeuer endeth in V´ccio, importeth the same to be poore, miserable, wretched, and deseruing compassion. Whatsoeuer nune endeth in Ótto, implieth the same to be handsomly big, well compact, and indifferently goodly. What nune soeuer endeth in Óne, doth manifest the same to be great beyond reason, bigge and ouer great, farre exceeding due proportion, huge aboue measure. What nune soeuer endeth in Áccio, argueth the same to be ugly, lothsome, contemptible, filthy, and odious. Let these few examples serue for all the rest.

An²ello, any kinde of ordinary Ring.

An²ellino, a very little or small Ring.

An²elletto, a little, and therewith pretty and quaint Ring.

An²elluccio, a silly, poore, abiect, and base Ring.

An²ellotto, a handsome, well fashioned, and not despisable Ring.

An²ellone, a huge, bigge, great, exceeding due proportion Ring.

An²ellaccio, a filthy, contemptible, lothsome, and to be reiected Ring.

Cau²allo, Cau²allino, Cau²alletto, Cau²alluccio, Cau²allotto, Cau²allone, Cau²allaccio.

Dónna, Donnína, Donnétta, Donnúccia, Donnótta, Donnóne, Donnáccia.
Spáda, Spadína, Spadétta, Spadúccia, Spadótta, Spadóne, Spadáccia.

And so of all the rest: but remember, that if you will haue them end in Ótto, or Óne, you must make the Feminin positie to end in O. as Donnóne, Casóne, Spadóne, Tauolóne, of Dónna, Spáda, Cása, Táuola, &c.

Note also that if the primitiue noune end in No, or Re, as Ásino, Pastóre, to expresse a kind of diminution or prettinesse and littleness, you may make them end in Ello, as Asin²ello, Bastonc²ello, Pastor²ello, &c.

Note that all Nounes ending in Lo. Le. Ro. Re. or Ne. except the last vowell require an accent, the said vowell may be left out, and at pleasure both in speaking and writing, in steed of Búffalo. Cauállo. Mále. Quále. Tále. Amáro. Cáro. Colóre. Honóre. Buóno. Sáno. Máno. Cáne. Páne. as also all Infinitie moods, as Amáre. Cantáre. Tenére. Vedére. Córre. T²essere. Dormíre. Vdíre. you may very well say, Buffal'. Cauál'. Mál'. Quál'. Tal'. Amár'. Cár'. Colór'. Honór'. Buón. Sán'. Mán'. Cán'. Pán'. Amár'. Cantár'. Tenér'. Vedér'. Córre. T²esser'. Dormír'. Vdí'. &c. For L. N. and R. are among the Italians counted the principall liquids in which words may end, though some count M. and T. liquids also. For some make the first persons plurall of Verbes end in M. leauing out the O. as you shall see better in Verbes, as also because the Coniunction copulatiue ended in T. namely before consonants, as hath alreadie beene said.

Note also that all plurals of most masculine words, whose singulars end in Llo, or Le, may at the pleasure of the Speaker or Writer end in Gli. Li. or I. as Cauállo. Cauágli. Cauállli. Cauái. or Cauá'. Cap²ello. Cap²gli. Cap²elli. Cap²ei. or Cap²'. Quélllo. Quégli. Quélli. Quéi. or Que'. Tále. Táli. Tái. Ta'. &c.

Note that where the Latins vse in diuers of their words the letter E. after the first consonant of the first sillable, as Melle. Felle. Feno. Leto. Pede. Sedet. Tenet. the Italians for elegancy sake put an I. betweene the said consonant and the E. and say and write, Mi²ele. Fi²ele. Fi²eno. Li²eto. Pi²ede. Si²ede. Ti²ene. &c.

Note also that where the Latines haue the open or round O. for the second letter after a consonant, as in these wordes: Bono. Corde. Foco. Homo. Mouére. Sono. Tono. Nocére. &c. the Italians commonly put an V. before the O. and say and write, Buóno, Cuóre, Fuóco, Huómo, Muóuere, Nuócere, Suóno, Tuóno, &c.

Note that where the Latins vse in diuers words the letter L. after C. F. and P. the Italians change the L. into I. and in steede of Cláro, Clarítate, Clamáre, Claué, Conclusioné, Flamma, Flóre, Flumen, Plano, Planta, Plombo, Templo, &c. they say, Chiáro, Chiarità, Chiamáre, Chiáue, Conchiusióné, Fiámma, Fióre, Fiúme, Piáno, Piánta, Piómbo, Témpio, &c.

Note that when an Italian word beginneth with S. and that any other consonant followes the same, as in these examples, Sbandáre, Scacciáre, Sconsoláto, Sfacénda^o, Sforzo, Smenticáto, Spaué^o, Stérmináto, Stromé^o, Suenimé^o, &c. the best Italians for Elegancies sake, place and pronounce an I. before the S. and say, Isbandáre, Iscacciáre, Isconsoláto, Isfacénda^o, Isforzo, Ismenticáto, Ispaué^o, Istermináto, Istromé^o, Isuenimé^o, &c.

Note that where the Latins vse in many words these two consonants together, Bf. Bn. Bs. Bt. Ct. Dm. Mn. Pt. which the Italians call Aspre consonánti, of most of their Latin wordes following, they make Italian wordes by losing the first of them, and euer doubling the latter consonants, as for example.

Obfuscáre.	Offuscáre.
Abnuntiáre.	Annontiáre.
Obséruáre.	Osséruáre.
Obtéstáre.	Ottéstáre.
Obtúso.	Ottúso.
Doctrína.	Dottrína.
Admonitione.	Ammonitióne.
Aduérsitate.	Auuérsità.
Omnipoténte.	Onnipoténte.
Optatiuo.	Ottatíuo.
Optimo.	Óttime.

and infinite others: yet remember that in these two Latine wordes, Omnis, and Somnium, the Italians change Mn. into Gn. and say, Ogni, Sógno, Sognáre, &c.

Note also that where the Latines vse the letter X. betweene two vowels, as Alexandro, Exemplo, Dixi, Prolixitate, Sáxo, Taxatio, &c. the Italians change the X. into double SS. and say, Alessádro, Essêmpio, Díssi, Prolissità, Sáссо, Tassatióne, &c.

Note that adding Dis. In. Is. or S. vnto any actiue or possessiue word or verbe, the same becommeth of the priuatiue sense, as appeareth by these examples.

Fáre.	Disfáre.
Proportióne.	Disproportióne.
Felíce.	Infelíce.
Costánte.	Incostánte.
Memoráto.	Ismemoráto.
Consoláto.	Isconsoláto.
Conoscẽnte.	Isconoscẽnte.
Vólgere.	Suólgere.

And infinite others.

Of Nounes Adiectiues, and of the vse of them.

I will not stand vpon the definition of an Adiectiue, but in briefe, An Adiectiue is but a part of speech, to signifie and set forth the true quality, nature, state, or condition of any substantiue.

Note that the Italians haue two sorts of Adiectiues, one ending in O, in the singular number, the other in E. the first doth euer varie according to the substantiue whereunto it is ioyned, as thus, Buóno amíco. Buoni amíci. Buóna amíca. Buóne amíche, and so of all the rest. The second ending in E. as it were neutrally serueth both genders, and varieth only in number, as thus, Gentíle Spírito. Gentíli Spíriti. Gentíle ánima. Gentíli ánime. Felíce huómo. Felíci huómini. Felíce dónna. Felíci dónne, &c.

Note that these two Adiectiues, Sánto and Gránde, are diuersly used in the Italian tongue; for, before consonants they loose the last sillable To and De, and say and write Grán and Sán, both in the singular and plurall number, as this, Grán fuóco. Grán fuóchi. Grán calóre. Grán calóri. Sán Páolo. Sán Francésco. whereas before vowels they are written at large, and sometimes apostrophed, as thus, Gránde amóre. Grándi amóri. Sánto Andréa. Sant'Andréa.

Note that taking any Adiectiue of the Feminine gender, and adding Ménte vnto it. You may frame any Aduerbe of quality or order, as Amára. Amaraménte. Furiósa. Furiosaménte. Cortése. Corteseménte. Dólce. Dolceménte. &c. and if you will frame or expresse any superlatiue degree, as we doe in English by adding Very or Most vnto any Adiectiue, so loosing the last vowell of any Italian Adiectiue, and putting Issimo vnto the same, you make the superlatiue as Amaríssimo. Furiosíssimo. Cortesíssimo. Dolcíssimo. &c. and so consequently if you will expresse any Aduerbe of quality superlatiuelly, change Issimo into Issimaménte, as thus, Amarissimaménte. Furiosissimaménte. Cortesissimaménte. Dolcissimaménte. And so of all the rest.

Note that taking of any Noun substantiue, whether Latin or Italian, you may thereof at your pleasure frame his Adiectiue either Active or Passiue (be it lawfull for me to use these words:) to frame the first make your substantiue to end in O. and put So vnto it, as Amóre, Amoróso, Bisógno, Bisognóso, Gústó, Gustóso, Fórza, Forzóso, Paúra, Pauróso, Tèrra, Tèrróso, &c. which termination implyeth euer the quality or fulnesse of the substantiue. To frame the second, make your substantiue to end in E. and put Vole vnto it, as Amoréuole, Bisognéuole, Gustéuole, Honoréuole, Lodéuole, Pauréuole, &c. You may also in steede of Vole vse Bile; but then the substantiue must end in A. and say, Amicábile, Biasimábile, Gustábile, Laudábile, Tolerábile, &c. From all which taking away the last vowell, and adding Ménte vnto the rest, you frame of them Aduerbs of quality, as is before said, as thus, Amicheuolménte. Biasimabilménte, Laudabilménte, Gusteuolménte, Honoreuolménte, Tolerabilménte, &c. Amorosaménte, Gustosaménte, &c.

Of Nounes proper or appellatiues.

Of Nounes Appellatiues or Proper, I will say little, for being but proper names of Persons or of Places, they are soone learned.

Of Comparatiues and how to frame them.

Note that the Italians haue but sixe comparatiues that may be expressed in one word, that is to say, Maggióre, Minóre. Meglióre. Peggióre. Superióre. Inferióre. which may as well be counted Latine as Italian. All the rest may be framed by placing any of these two Aduerbs of quantity, Più or Méno, before any Adiective, as thus, Amáro. Più amáro. Méno amáro. Bèllo. Più bèllo. Men bèllo. Cáro. Più cáro. Mén cáro. Dótto. Più dótto. Mén dótto. Gránde. Più gránde. Mén gránde. And so of all the rest.

Of Superlatiues.

Note that the Italians haue two sorts of Superlatiues, which I distinguish thus, that one may admit a comparison, and the other not. That which admitteth no comparison, is euer framed by adding the Article that the positiue adiectiue requireth, unto your already framed Comparatiue, as thus. Amáro, Più amáro, Méno amáro. Il più amáro. Il mén' amáro. Cára. Più cára. Mén cára. La più cára. La mén cára. Dótto. Più dótto. Mén dótto. Il più dótto. Il mén dótto. Gránde. Più gránde. Mén gránde. La più gránde. La Mén gránde. The other Superlatiue that doth admit a comparison, which the English expresse with the addition of Most, Right, Thrice, or Very, vnto their positiues, is framed among the Italians thus by adding Issimo or Issima, vnto any positiue, which must euer loose his last vowell, as, Amaríssimo, Bèllíssimo, Caríssimo, Dottíssimo, Grandíssima, Illustríssima, &c.

Note that the Italians haue also an other manner of speech very ordinary among them to expresse any comparison, and that is with the helpe of Di, Del, Chè, and Che nón. which must euer haue reference vnto Più, Méno, Mèglio, or Pèggio, as thus. Tu sèi più dotto di mè, ma io sóno più dabbéne di tè. Io ti ámo più del douére. Tu mi dáí méno del méri^o. Chi áma Dio più che'l móndo sarà felice.

Lui c erca m eno la vert  che t tti i vitij, &c. But note that all these comparatiue phrases must haue but one verbe in them: For, if they haue two or more, you must then vse Che non, and neuer else, and it must euer be placed before the second verbe of the sentence, as thus, T  s i pi  d tto, che non s no io, ma io f ccio m glio che non f i t . Io  mo D o m glio che non f i t ,   l'off do m no che non f nno m lti. Lui fa p ggio che non d ce. Lui   pi  ricco che non si mo n i. And infinite others.

Note that the Italians speaking or writing to any person, whom they will seeme to respect or honour, and whom they would seeme to acknowledge their superior, they vse not to speake or write vnto him in the second person singular. Tu, or T a, as the Latines, nor in the second person plurall V i, or V stra, as most nations doe, but in the third person singular, to one, as L i or S a, and in the third person plurall to many, as L ro, And accordingly frame all the verbs to be vsed in the sentence, as for example. S a Signoria mi t rr  p r iscus to, se pr ma n n s no ven to a basci rle le m ni,   f rle riuer za. Io mi reputer  felice che  ssa mi t nga n lla s a bu na gr tia, c me s o minimo s ruit re, p rch  t le le far  s mpre. &c. Or else speaking to many. Le l ro Signorie mi t rr nno p r iscus to se pr ma non s no ven to a basci r l ro le m ni, & f r loro riuer za. Io mi reputer  felice che  sse mi t ngano n lla l ro bu na gr tia, c me l ro m nimo s ruit re, perch  t le v glio  sser l ro. In steede of, V stra Signoria mi t rr  p r iscus to se pr ma non s no ven to a basci rui le m ni,   f rui riuer za. Io mi reputer  felice che voi mi teni te n lla v stra bu na gr tia, c me v stro m nimo s ruit re che vi s no, &c.

Of the declining of Nounes.

Note that whosoeuer can perfectly decline the Articles, and fitly appropriate them to the Nounes, may (as I haue said before, speaking of the articles) with great facility learne how to decline all Italian Nounes both Substantiues and Adiectiues: and therefore for breuity sake I haue declined and set downe but one of euery kinde and gender, which shall serue for all the rest; for, whosoeuer can decline one may also decline all.

Mas.	Sing.	Number.

Of Pronounes in generall.

By Pronounes haue been vnderstood certaine determinate words that imply or represent a Noun, eyther of person or thing; and Grammarians haue diuided them into diuers sorts or rankes, calling some Primitiues, some Possessiues, some Deriuatiues, some Demonstratiues, some Relatiues, some Interogatiues, and some Indefinitiues.

The Primiues are, Io, Tú, Lúi, Egli, Ei, Ezzo, Essa, of the Sing. Nói, Vói, Lóro, Eglino, Elleno, of the Plur.

The Possessiues are, Mío, Mía, Túo, Túa, Súo, Súa, of the Sing. Mièi, Tuói, Suói, Míe, Túe, Súe, Nóstro, Nóstri, Nóstra, Nóstre, Vóstro, Vóstri, Vóstra, Vóstre, Lóro, Altrúi, of the Plu. from which are deriued certaine bastards, and seldome vsed except in compositions, as Mò, Mon, Ma, Tò, Tà, Sò, as Fratèlmò, Monsignóre, Madáma, Fratèltò, &c.

The Deriuatiues are, Mi, Ti, Si, Ci, Vi; Me, Te, Se, Ce, Ve, as also, Mò, Ma, Tò, Ta, Sò, whereof more shall be said.

The Demonstratiues are, Colúi, Colèi, Colóro, Quello, Quégli, Quélli, Quél, Quéi, Qué', Quélla, Quéllè, Quésta, Quéste, Quésto, Quésti. Esto, Stó, Sta, Sti, Ste. Costúii, Costèi, Cotéstó, Cotestúii, Cotestóro, Ciò, Ciochè, Ezzo, Dézzo, Stézzo.

The Relatiues are, Quále, Chè, Cui.

The Interogatiues are, Che?, Chi?, Quále?

The Indefinitives are, Alcúno, Altrúi, Altri, Altro, Cadaúno, Ciaschedúno, Ciascúno, Medésimo, Nessúno, Niúno, Ogniúno, Qualcúno, Qualún[que], Chiúnque, Tále, Talúno, Cotále, Verúno, Stésso, Istésso.

Note that no Pronounes haue Articles ioyned vnto them, except Altrúi. Chè. Cúi. Cotále. Medésimo. Quále. Tále. and the possessiues, Mío. Túo. Súo. Mía. Túa. Súa. Nóstro. Nóstra. Vóstra. Vóstro. and Lóro. and yet all may haue the signes of the cases, Di. A. or Da. or else they could not be declined; as thus, Il medésimo giòrno che io ti conóbbi, l'istésso ti amái. Il tále m'hà fáto mále. Il cotále m'hà feríto. L'amíco il quále io ámo. Il che io ti mostrerò sèmpre. Io desídero l'altrúi bene, Il cúi dánno non mi piáce. I cúi denári io hò spesi, &c. and so all their plurals.

Note that to all the Possesiues, contrary to other Idiomés, the Italians ioyne such Articles, as the Substantiue requireth to which they are ioyned, as thus, Il mío líbro. I tuói fastídij sónó i mièi. La mía máno. Le mie bráccia. Il túo pádre. Le túe disgrátie. La súa sórte. Il súo giuditio. Il nóstro Dío punísce i nóstri peccati, La vóstra lèttera. Le vóstre fórze. Il vóstro signóre. I vóstri guanti. La lóro fortúna. Il lóro fratèllo. Le lóro sciagùre. I lóro maríti, &c.

Of the Pronounes deriuatiues, or as some cal them Affixes, Adiuncts, or Particles, Mi, Ti, Si, Ci, Vi, Ne, Te, Se, Ce, Ve, Ne, Mo, Ma, To, Ta, So, which are so frequent in vse, and such an ornament or grace in the Italian tongue, which because they are some what difficile, I will say something of them.

The aboue written Deriuatiues, Affixes, Adiuncts, or Particles are very worthy of great consideration for the true vse of them, which few English attaine vnto, though they haue beene in Italy, and because none that euer I saw hath yet truely written of them; therefore pardon me, I beseech your Royal Maiestie, if I seeme somewhat tedious or curious in them. They are commonly ioyned vnto Verbes, and are euer of the Datiue or Accusatiue cases, except verbs of Priuation, when they are of the Ablatiue, as before hath beene touched: as for example, Lui mi diède. Egli mi dísse. Ei mi conóbbe èt súbito mi prése. Io ti díco è ti móstro, è ti véggio, è ti conósco. Egli si dà ad intèndere di scusársi, è s'accúsa da se stésso. Lóro si dánno a crédere di non monstrársi pázzi (Of Si, more shall be said in this present Discourse.) Lui ci diède denári vedèndone giuocáre. Dio vi hà dáta la súa gratia acciò vi pentiáte, &c. Here remember that Ci, and Vi, are often Aduerbes of place or locall signifying Here and There, as thus, Se io ci sóno, non ci voglio èssere. Io non vi andái pèr non trouáruí l'amíco che promise di èsserui, &c.

Note that Mi, Ti, Si, Ci, Vi, may often be changed into Me, Te, Se, Ce, Ve, and yet are euer of one same signification, the I. of which is neuer changed into E. but when any of them are ioyned or affixed vnto some one of these Articles, Il. I. Lo. Gli. La. Le. or Ne. being an Aduerbe, and then are the Affixes of the Datiue case, and the Articles of the Accusatiue cases, as this, Lúí me lo mostrò. Io te lo dièdi. Io te ne parlái. Egli se la béue. Essi se le mangiórono sénza pentírsene. Lóro ce ne hánnò parláto, èt ce lo significórono. Io ce lo víddi. Lui ce ne diède, èt ce ne féce páрте. Io ve lo trouái. Di grátia non ve ne Scordáte. Non vogliáte cercárveli se non ve ne voléte pentíre, &c.

Note also that all these aboue written Particles Mi. Ti. Si. Ci. Vi. Me. Te. Se. Ve. Ne. Lo. La. and Le. may indifferently be vsed and placed eyther before or after Verbes, at the pleasure of the speaker or writer, as for example in the Datiue case, Mi piáce. Piácemi. Ti gióua. Gióuati. Si compíáce. Compiácesi. Ci dilétta. Diléttaci. Vi piáce. Piáceui. Si compiáciono. Compiácionsi. And Accusitiuely, Mi vidde. Viddemi. Tí accúsa. Accúsati. Si móstra. Móstrasi. Ci áma. Ámaci. Vi truóua. Truóuauí.

But remember that if the Verbe haue an accent ouer the last vowell, as Mostrerò, Donò, Dirà, Farà, Starà, Dà, È, and that you will place the Particle after the verbe (as you may at your pleasure) the consonant of them ought euer to bee doubled, whereas before the Verbe it ought to be single, as for example, Ti mostrerò, Mostrerótti, Mi donò, Donómmi, Si dirà, Dirássi, Si farà, Farássi, Ci dà, Dácci, Ci è del béne? Eccí del béne, Vi farò vedére, Faróuui vedére. Ve ne è dauánzo, Éuuene pur tróppo. Le donò il cuóre, Donólle il cuóre, Se ne andò. Andóssene vía. Si trouò fuóri. Trouóssi fuóri. Le trouò che dormíuano. Trouólle che dormíuano. Ne dà. Dánne. Ne fà. Fánne, &c. Note withall that none of these Particles should be vsed before any Infinitiuue mood, Gerond or Participle (an error wherein many Englishmen fall very often) as Mi fáre, Ti díre, Si monstrando, Si dicendo, Si pentíto, Si trouáto, Ci fáre, Ci trouáre, Vi facendo, Vi parlando, Ne vedendo, Ne trouádo, &c. but you must euer say Fármi, Dírti, Fárçi, Trouárçi, euer losing the last vowell of the Infinitue. Dicendosi, Facendosi, Pentítosi, Trouátosi, Facendoui, Parlándovi, Vedèdone, Trouándone, &c.

It is not amisse if you note that Se, is sometimes an Aduerbe of doubt, as thus, Se if, Se púre if so be that, Se però if yet as, Se tu ámi Dio if thou loue God, &c.

Note also that these Affixes, or Participles are sometimes vsed among good Italians for an ornament or grace of speech rather then for necessity, and ioyning many times two or three together, as for example, Egli si créde, He belieueth himselfe, or to himselfe. Tù ti pénsi, Thou thinkest thy selfe, or to thy selfe. Io mi ti raccomandádo, I recommend my selfe vnto thee. Tù mi ti mostrásti amoréuole, Thou didst show thy selfe kinde vnto me. Egli mi si proferì da sè, He of himselfe offered himselfe to me. Io mi ci fermái, I my selfe staide there. Tù ti ci facésti incóntro, Thou madest thy selfe against vs. In which gracefull, elegant, and ornamentall speeches, they ought euer to end in I. and not in E. yet may they end in both after L. or R. as for example: Cálmi. Cálme. Válmi. Válme. Dármi. Dárme. Pármi. Párme. &c.

Of Si.

Be your Maiestie pleased, I humbly entreate you, if I be somewhat tedious about this Particle Si. which to all strangers seemeth a Particle so doubtfull and vncertaine, that most are therewith puzled, yea and Italians themselues are to seeke how to expresse it, or how to giue rules for it. For I could neuer yet see the Grammar that did giue me satisfaction, or that did in any sort show the true vse of it, or the diuers significations it hath, as your Highnesse may perceiue, if you compare their rules vnto mine. For if you duely consider it, eyther in writing or speaking, and withall examine the thing written or spoken of, there is no part of speech more certain, more regular, and more ornamentall, although it sometimes seeme to contrary it selfe, especially if it be ioyned vnto Verbes (as it is very often) and makes the Verbe to which it is affixed to be sometimes directly Actiue or Transitiue, and other times Passiue or Reciprocall, as indeed it is: and fauour me I beseech you, with the patience to consider these few rules, you shall finde is very easie and certaine, both how to be vnderstood, and how to be vsed.

Sì. is often an Aduerbe of swearing or affirmation, yea, yes, yea marry as thus, Sì in verità, yes in truth. Signor sì, yes, Sir. Sì veraménte, yes forsooth. &c. and then is it euer accented.

Sì. serueth often for an Aduerbe of similitude or comparison in stead of Così, in English So, As, or Thus, as for example, Huómo sì cortése, sì nóbile, è sì gentíle non víddi mái, A man so courteous, so noble, and thus gentle, did I neuer see, &c. and should euer be accented.

Sì. is sometimes an Aduerbe of quantity, comparatiuely, or relatiuely spoken, in lieu of Tánto, or Quánto, in English As much, As well, So well, So much, hauing euer relation vnto Cóme or Quánto, as thus, Sì lui cóme vn'altro, As much or as well he as another. Sì bene pèr il mio interèsse quánto pèr il vóstro, As well, or as much for mine interesse as for yours. Or else it may be placed before Pèr, or Pèrchè, or Pèr tánto, or, Pèr quánto, as thus, Sì pèr amór vóstro, cóme pèr súo, As much or as well for your sake as for his. Sì pèrchè ti ámo, quánto pèrchè tù sèi vertuóso, As well because I loue thee, as because thou art vertuous, &c. and should euer be accented.

Sì. hath beene vsed for a Coniunction of continuing sense or yeelding reason, in place of Nondiméno, yet or neuerthesse, as thus, Se áltro non mi vì facésse volér béne, Sì vi vóglío béne, pèrchè lo meritáte, If nothing else should make me to wish you well, yes or neuerthesse I will loue you because you deserue it, &c.

Sì. hath beene vsed for the Preposition Insíno, vntill, as thus, Nón si riténne di córrere sì fù a cása di lui, he staide not his running vntill he came to his house, &c.

Si. hath beene vsed sometimes for an ornament, as thus, Andò et si gli apèrse, et si gli disse, &c.

Si. being ioyned or affixed vnto the third person of any verbe, be it singular or plurall, or to any Infinitiu moode, or to any Gerond, or to any Participle, as it is most often, and that both before and after them, your Maiesty ought diligently to consider and obserue whether, Si, hath reference and relation vnto persons animated, or creatures hauing life, namely men or women, or otherwise vnto creatures or things dead, and hauing no life, as also vnto actions of men or women, or as a man may say, whether in speech or writing the partie be ment and vnderstood himselfe, or whether but his action, and any dead thing else; for to some one of those two must euery verbe spoken, read or written necessarily haue relation, and of one of the two al meane and vnderstand. If Si. haue relation and reference vnto persons animated and hauing or hauing had life, you shall assuredly finde the Verbe to which Si. is affixed, to be of the Actiue or Transitiue signification, and Si. to be a Pronoune Primitiue, or as some say, deriuatiue, both of the singular and plurall number, both of the Masculine and Feminine gender, and but of the Datiue or of the Accusatiue cases, signifying To him, to herselfe, to themselues, Him, her, themselues, as also sometimes, one another, as for example, Lui si dà a credere d'èsser sáuiu, è si stíma èsser' huómo da béne, èt non si rauéde d'è suói erróri, di che si douerèbbe vergognáre conoscèndosi. That is in English, He giueth himselfe to beleue that he is wise, and thinketh himselfe to be an honest man, and himselfe perceiueh not his owne faults, whereof he should be ashamed himself, knowing himselfe. Or thus: Lóro si pénsano èsser sauij, mà si ingánnano, They thinke themselues wise men, but they deceiue themselues. Or thus: Lui si è fáttö mále, pensándosi di fársi béne, He hath done hurt to himselfe, thinking to doe himselfe good. Or thus: Lóro si dánno a credere d'èssersi feriti, They perswade themselues that they haue hurt themselues, or to haue hurt one another; for in the sense of One another it is often found. Here remember also (as I haue before touched) that Si. being affixed vnto verbs of priuation, and speaking of persons animated, it may be of some Ablatiue case, as thus, Lui si è cauáto la máschera, He hath pulled the maske or vizard from himselfe. Or thus: Lóro si sóno leuáta la libertà, They haue taken liberty from themselues, &c.

Secondly, if Si, be ioyned or affixed to any verbe, hauing relation to any dead or liuelesse thing, or to any action performed, be sure that it is a signe or inference of a passiue signification, which in English is expressed with these signes, It is, Men, Are, They, The world, Be it, or To be, namely with Infinitiuues, as for example, Si díce ch'è le cattíue cóse non si stímano, It is said that euill things are not esteemed. Or thus: Mólte cóse si fáanno, che non si conuèngono, Many things are done that are not conuenient, &c. And so you may vnderstand it being ioyned vnto the third persons, eyther singular or plurall, of all the tences throughout the Verbe, as also with an Infinitiue mood, as thus, Quésto dèbbe fársi, this thing is to be done, &c. Or with a Participle, as thus, Fáttosi nótte si féce áncó oscúro, Night being made, darknesse was also made, &c.

Note also as a speciall thing, that if there be two or more verbes in a sentence, and that one of them be an Infinitive, although they be farre asunder, and that Si. be ioyned to any one, yet must it still governe the Infinitive passively, as this, Si può manifestamente vedere, che gli huómini si pòssono ingannare, It may manifestly be seene, that men may easily be deceiued, &c.

Of Ne.

The reason why so few can directly vnderstand, or truly make vse in speaking or writing of this Particle Ne, which in the Italian tongue is so often and so gracefully vsed, proceedeth of this, that as yet (as farre as I haue seene) none did euer shew directly, or rightly set down the essentiall proprietie, the certaine and distinct significations, and the vndoubted vse thereof, amusing the learner and stranger, with saying that it is but an ornament and affected grace of the tongue, and that it might well, or for the most part be spared; when if your Maiesty rightly examine the same, you shall finde it to be a most necessary, a most gracefull, and most significant part of speech: yea, and so significant, so gracefull, and so necessary, as the Italian tongue is lame, harsh, imperfect and gracelesse without it. I haue therefore as briefly as I could set downe the seuerall significations, and direct vses thereof, and what it doth import, or may signifie, and without the compasse of which I would yet neuer heare, reade, or finde it. Remember therefore that Ne hath onely fiue seuerall significations, and more it cannot haue.

First Nè, is sometimes an Aduerbe of distinction, or as some count it, of deniall or refusall, and is commonly accented, and without a verb, and in the beginning of a sentence, or immediately after a Comma, signifying in English, Nor, or Neither, or thus, Nè ti sóno amico, nè áncò lo vóglío ẽssere, per chẽ, nè tũ lo mẽriti, nè se ne contẽterẽbboro i miẽi amici. I neither am thy friend, nor will I be, because neither dost thou deserue it, nor would my friends be therewith contented. Or thus, Nè quẽsto, nè quẽllo ti concẽdo, imperochẽ, nè mi ámi, nè mi puói vedere. Nor this, nor that doe I graunt to thee, for thou dost neither loue me, nor canst abide to see me, &c.

Secondly, Ne is sometimes an Aduerb local or of place, or as some call it, a Preposition, importing In, In the, or Into, but then is the Article I. included, and sometimes apostrophed, and sometimes not, as thus, Spasseggiándo ne' cámpi, m'imbattéi ne' mièi nemíci, walking in the fields, I chanced to fal into mine enemies. Or thus, Trouándomi ne' cámpi, finding my selfe in the fieldes. Or thus, Leggèndo ne' libri, reading in the bookes, Or thus, Ne' sáuij si truóuano buóni consíglij, in wise men are good counsels found, &c.

Thirdly, Ne. being ioyned to a verbe of motion, as Andáre, Fuggíre, Voláre, Veníre, &c. is sometimes an Aduerbe locall or of place, signifying in English Thence, Hence, or Away, as Lui se ne è andáto; He is gone away. Io me ne vádo, I goe hence. Io me ne vóglio fuggíre, I will runne away or flie hence, Lui se ne è fuggito, He is fled away thence or hence. Volándosene via, Flying thence away. Venitéuene, Come away thence, &c.

Fourthly, Ne. serueth sometimes for the Pronoune primitiue, Noi, Vs, being euer of the Datiue or Accusatiue cases, except with verbes of priuation, with which it is of the Ablatiue. As for example, Vedèndone giuocáre lui ne diède denári, Seeing vs play he gaue vs money. Incontrándone lui ne diède il buón giòrno, Meeting vs, he bade vs good morrow, with priuatiue verbes, let this example serue. Lui ne hà tólto il nóstro ripóso, furátone i nóstri denári, èd ascóstone i nóstri béni, He hath taken from vs our rest, stolne our money from vs, and hidden our goods from vs.

Fifthly and lastly, Ne. being ioyned with a verbe doth most often and most commonly serue for an Aduerbe of quantity, or relation, signifying in English, Some, Of it, Any, Part of, There of, Of them, and sometimes, Therewith, hauing euer relation vnto the chief substantiue, mentioned, spoken of, or glanced at in the sentence, at being reciprocally vnto it, and is most elegantly and gracefully so often vsed of all the best Italians, to auoide that harshnesse or trouble of often iterating the same vpon euery occasion, and in continuance of the sense, as for example, Di grátia Signór mio se hauéte denári fátemene páрте, Signóre Io non ne hò, se ne hauéssi, ve ne farèi páрте, quándo ne hauerò, ne potréte dispórre, mi dispiáce non hauérne, vísto chè tánti ne hánno, chè non ne sóno degni, &c. which in English is thus. Of courtesie Sir if you haue any money, lend me some. Sir I haue none, if I had any you should haue part thereof, when I shall haue some, you may dispose of it. I am sorry I haue not any, seeing so many haue some that are not worthy of it, &c. much more might be said of the vse thereof, but I thinke this sufficient. Now let vs come vnto the verbes.

Of verbes in generall.

A Verbe is a part of speech which varieth in times; for Verbe is that which signifieth time, or sheweth variation of time, implying euer an action or working either of body or minde. Amongst all the Verbs some are vnder certaine orders, and are called Regular, some are not, and they are called Irregular. All Uerbs that maybe reduced vnder certaine orders and infallible rules, haue heretofore by the Fathers and best writers of the Italian tongue (in imitation of the Latin) beene deuided and ranged into foure squadrons by them named Coniugations.

All those of the first Squadron or Coniugation are such as in their Infinitiuue moodes end in Áre. with the accent ouer the last A. as Amáre, Balláre, Cantáre, Mangiáre, Saltáre, Tagliáre, and infinite others.

All those of the second Squadron or Coniugation are those that in the Infinitiuue moode end in Ére, with the accent ouer the last E. sauing one, as Hauére, Godére, Possedére, Temére, Vedére, and infinite others.

All those of the third Squadron or Coniugation are those that in their Infinitiuue moodes doe likewise end in Ére. with the accent ouer the last vowell sauing two, as Córreere, Frémere, Lèggere, Nuócere, Rídere, Strídere, Tèssere, and infinite others.

All those of the fourth Squadron or Coniugation are those that in their Infinitiuue moodes end in Íre. with the accent ouer the first vowell sauing one, as Dormíre, Moríre, Nutríre, Obedíre, Patíre, Sentíre, Vdíre, &c.

All those Uerbes that may be reduced vnder certaine orders are called Regular, the number of which is infinite of euery Coniugation; where as those that more or lesse doe varie and estrange themselues from rules or order are called Irregular, whereof the number is but few, as shall appeare hereafter.

All Verbs be either Actiue and Transitiue, or Passiue & Reciprocall, or else Personall or Impersonall, of which we will say somewhat and of their seuerall vses: and because some tences of all verbes are coniugated either with the Participle and helpe of the Auxiliar, or as I may call it Mother-verbe, Hauére, or else with the Participle and helpe of the other Auxiliar and helping verbe Éssere. Know therefore that all Actiue or Transitiue verbs, that is to say, that passe into the subiect treated, meant, or spoken of, vse the helpe of the Auxiliar verbe Hauére, as Io hò veduti èt lètti mólti libri. Io hó trouáti póchi amíci. Io me l'hauéuo guadagnáto con l'árme in máno, &c. And the Passiue or Reciprocall verbs, that is to say, that returne vnto themselues with Mi. Ti. Si. Ci. Vi. which answere vnto Io. Tù. Lúí. Nói. Lóro. vse euer the helpe of the other Auxiliar verbe Éssere, as for example, Io mi sóno rallegráto del túo béne, ẽ̀ tũ̀ ti sèi dolúto del mío. Noi ci siámo accostáti a lui, ẽ̀ vói vi siéte vergognáti di fárlø. Quándo loro si saránno partíti dál mál fáre, noi ci consolerémo, &c.

Note here that these two verbs, Póssø and Vóglio, may be vsed and ioyned with both the Auxiliar verbs, Hauére and Éssere. The reason why I call them Auxiliar, is, because they are as helps to coniugate all other verbs both Actiue and Passiue, and I deeme them most necessary to be perfectly learned of him that is curious trully to vnderstand, rightly to speake, or exactly to write the Italian tongue, forsomuch as whosoever can readily coniugate Hauére, may without any doubt or difficulty (knowing but the Infinitiue moode, which is as the roote and ground of all) coniugate and frame all the rest of the verbs, both regular and irregular of the Italian tongue, except three tences, and of those three tences but one person of each: that is to say, the Present tence of the Indicatiue moode; Secondly, the first distant or vndetermined Preterperfectence of the same moode; Thirdly, the Present tence of the Optatiue moode: as by coniugating of this verbe Hauére, shall manifestly appeare, which I humbly entreate your Maiestie to learne carefully.

Of the verbe Hauére.

The Indicatiue moode or Demonstratiue manner of speech.

The Present or Deffinite tence.

Singular Number.	Plurall Number.
Io hó. Io hággio	Noi habbiámo, or hauémo.
Tũ̀ hái.	Voi hauéte.
Lúi hà, or Egli hà.	Lóro háнно, or Essi háнно.

Of the vse, and what may be learned by this Tence.

Note that adding any Participle vnto this tence, you frame the second Certaine, Neare, or Determined Preterperfectence of the Indicatiue moode of all Actiue or Transitiue verbes, and of all coniugations, as for example.

Io hò amáto, or Vedúto. Nói hauémo scritto, or fátto.

Tù hai cantáto, or dormíto. Vói hauéte vbidíto.
Lui hà saltáto, or létto. Lóro háno volúto.

The Preterimperfect, Doubtfull, Vnlimited, or Vndetermined tence.

Io hauéuo. Nói haueuámo.
Tù hauéui. Vói haueuáte.
Lúi hauéua. Lóro hauéuano.

Of the vse, and what may be learned by this Tense.

First note, that adding any Participle of what verbe soeuer vnto this tence, you frame the first vncertaine, vndetermined, and very distant Preterpluperfectence of the Indicatiue moode of all Actiue or Transitiue verbes, as for example.

Io hauéuo magniáto. Noi haueuámo scrítto.
Tù hauéui vedúto. Voi haueuáte dormíto.
Lui hauéua studiáto. Lóro hauéuano saltáto.

Secondly note, that this tence of all the verbes of the second, of the third, and of the fourth coniugation, may at the pleasure of the speaker or writer lose and leaue out the last V. in the third persons singular and plurall, as thus, Lui hauéa, Lui scriuéa, Lui dormía, Lóro hauéano, Lóro scriuéano, Lóro dormiano, as also it may lose the last vowell, or O. of the said third persons plurall; for you may also say Lóro hauéan', Lóro scriuéan'. Lóro dormían, &c.

Thirdly note, that all third persons plurall of all Italian verbes must haue the accent placed vpon the last vowell sauing two, as Lóro amáuano, Lóro vedéuano, Lóro scriuéuano, Lóro dormiuano, &c. except that of the future tence of the Indicatiue, where the accent is vpon the last vowell sauing one, by reason of the double Nn. which follows the same, as Lóro ameránno, Lóro vederánno, Lóro scriueránno, Lóro moriránno, &c.

Fourthly note, that knowing the termination of this tence and of this verbe alone, you may therby learne how to frame the doubtfull or vnlimited Preterimperfectence of the Indicatiue moode of all the verbes of the Italian tongue, as for example of the first Coniugation by changing the E. of this verbe Hauére, into A. as thus.

Io amáuo. Io saltáuo. Nói amauámo, or Saltauámo.
Tù amáui. Tù saltáui. Vói amauáte or saltauáte.
Lui amáua. Lui saltáua. Lóro amáuano, or saltáuano.

Of the second and third Coniugation by keeping the very same desinence or termination of this tence, and of this Verbe, as for example.

Io vedéuo. Io corréuo. Nói vedeuámo, or Correuámo.
Tù vedéui. Tù corréui. Vói vedeuáte, or Correuáte.
Lui vedéua. Lui corréua. Lóro vedéuano, or Corréuano.

Of the fourth Coniugation by changing the E. into I. as for example.

Io dormíuo. Io patíuo. Nói dormiuámo, or Patiuámo.
Tù dormíui. Tù patíui. Vói dormiuáte, or Patiuáte.
Lui dormíua. Lui patíua. Lóro dormíuano, or Patíuano.

The first vncertaine, vndetermined, or distant Preterperfect tence.

Io hēbbi. Nói hauémmo.
Tù hauēsti. Vói hauéste.
Lúi hēbbe. Lóro hēbbero, or hēbber'

Of the vse of this tence, and what may thereby be learned.

First note, that adding the Participle of what Verbe soeuer vnto this tence, you frame a tence, which although some Grammarians haue made no mention of, yet is so necessary, and so often vsed of good Italians, both in speaking and writing, as I am perswaded, that no man can truely speake or write without it; or that it is a second, vndoubted, most certaine and determined Preterpluperfect tence of all Actiue or Transitiue Verbes, as for example.

Io hēbbi pagáto. Nói hauémmo scrítto.
Tù hauēsti saltáto. Vói hauéste lētto.
Lúi hēbbe godúto. Lóro hēbbero dormíto.

Secondly, you may learne by this tence to know, that whereas the first

Preterperfect tences of the Indicative moode of most Italian Verbes, of the second and third coniugations are somewhat difficile, vncertaine, and irregular, that it is but in three persons, that is to say, in the first and third singular, and in the third plurall, yet are they not so vncertaine, but that if you finde only the first person singular, which doth euer end in I, as Hèbbi. Sèppi. Tácqui. Nácqui. Víddi. &c. change that I. into E. and vndoubtedly you haue the third person singular, as Hèbbe. Sèppe. Tácque. Nácque. Vídde. and to the third person singular adding Ro, you haue infallibly the third person plurall, as Hèbbero, Sèppero, Tácquero, Nácquero, Víddero. &c. wheras the other three persons, to wit, the second singular, and the first and second plurall of this tence are euer regular, and keepe one certaine termination, and may be framed by the Infinitive, as thus, Take Re, from the Infinitive moode, and adde Sti, vnto the rest you haue the second person singular, as Hauésti, Sapésti, Tacésti, Nascésti, Vedésti, and likewise take Re. from the Infinitive, and vnto it adde Mmo, you haue the first person plural, as Hauémmo, Sapémmo, Tacémmo, Nascémmo, Vedémmo. And likewise take Re, from the Infinitive, and thereunto adde Ste, as thus, change the last I. of the second person singular of this tence into E. you haue the second person plurall, as Hauéste, Sapéste, Tacéste, Nascéste, Vedéste. Yet remember that this tence is not so strictly vncertain but that it may for a shift be made regular, as those of the first coniugation, as thus, Hauéi, hauésti, hauétte, Hauémmo, Hauéste, Hauéttero, and so Tacéi, Tacésti, Tacétte, Tacémmo, Tacéste, Tacéttero, Godéi, Godésti, Godétte, Godémmo, Godéste, Godéttero, &c.

Now for your Maiesties more facility, and to know certainly what verbes of the second or third coniugation varie in this tence, I haue throughout my Dictionarie set downe next to all Infinitives, the first person singular of this tence, as also all the participles, because they are somewhat irregular and variable, as I will shew when I come to speake of them which I haue done for the ease of such as delight in the tongue, and haue not readily Italians by to aske, or good Grammarians at hand to resolute them. As for the verbes of the first and fourth coniugations, they are almost all regular in this tence, and who knowes one, may say he knowes all, except foure of the first, and some few of the fourth; which I will note when I come to speake of irregular verbes. Of which I will say more then euer yet was said of any other.

The second, certaine, neare, or determined Preterperfect tence.

Io hò hauúto. Nói habbiámo hauúto.
Tù hái hauúto. Vói hauéte hauúto.
Lúi hà hauúto. Lóro hánno hauúto.

Of the vse, and what may be learn't by this tence.

The chiefe thing that is to be noted in this tence is this; The first, or (as I may rightly call it) distant, vncertaine, or vndertermined Preterperfect tence, Hèbbi, or that of any other verbe, is most commonly vsed (or at least should be) in speaking of times or things gone or past, and that ended their time the present morning, wherein you speak of them.

And this second, certaine, nearer, or determined Preterperfect tence is euer vsed (or should be vsed) in speaking of times or things, hauing relation vnto, or ended in the day present, and wherein you speake: and therefore doe I call it nearer and certaine. As for example, if you demaund of me, Quando hauéte vedúto il tále? When saw you such a one? If I saw him this day, I must answere, Io l'hò vedúto hoggi. But if I saw him at any other time before, I must say, Io lo víddi l'altro giórno, &c. And looke what is said of this tence of Hauére, the same may be said of the same tence of all other verbes, wherein English men erre so much; but indeed they may be excused, because they neuer yet saw Grammar that shewed the difference betweene them: for most make them indifferently all one.

The first, vncertaine, very distant, or vnderdetmined preterpluperfect tence.

Io hauéuo hauúto. Nói haueuámo hauúto.
Tù hauéui hauúto. Vói haueuáte hauúto.
Lúi hauéua hauúto. Lóro hauéuano hauúto.

The second, certaine, somewhat distant, or determined Preterpluperfect tence.

Io hèbbi hauúto. Nói hauémmo hauúto.
Tù hauésti hauúto. Vói hauéste hauúto.
Lúi hèbbe hauúto. Lóro hèbbero hauúto.

Of the vse of these two Tences, and what is to be obserued by them.

The chiefest thing that is to be obserued in these two Tences, is, that Io hèbbi hauúto. Io hēbbi amáto. Io hēbbi scrítto. Io hēbbi vdíto, haue euer refference vnto times and things further off, and so hapned that some other time, action or chance hath succeeded betweene: and Io hauéuo hauúto. Io hauéuo amáto. Io hauéuo scrítto. Io hauéuo vdíto, haue euer refference vnto times, actions, or chances hapned long time since, and a great distance off; which is the reason that I haue placed them vnder titles of very distant or vndetermined, and of somewhat distant or determined, by which your Maiesty may easily distinguish them, and know their differences, as thus. Quándo io hò mangiáto, desídero di bére, whereas Io hēbbi hauúto answereth a time more certaine and deffinite, as thus. Quándo l'hēbbi vedúto, di súbito il conóbbi, and Io hauéuo hauúto, hath relation vnto a time or distance further off, and indeffinite, as thus. Io l'hauéuo bēn vedúto, ma nón lo conoscéuo, &c.

Here I thinke it not impertinent to desire your Maiesty to remember, that the Participles of all the verbes of the Italian tongue, ioyned vnto any tence of what verbe soeuer, may at the discretion or choise of the speaker or writer be accommodated and referred to both numbers and genders, or as you would say more plainly, to the person speaking, or spoken of; as also to the substantiue or things meant or spoken of, as thus. Io hò desideráto il túo cómmo. Io hó desideráta la túa commodità. Io hò desideráti i tuói cómmodi. Io hò desideráte le túe commodità, or thus. La tua essortatióne ha mutáto il mio disségno, mutáti i miēi disségni, mutáta la mia opinióne, mutáte le mie opinióni, &c. all which participles haue relation vnto the substantiue, whereas you may as well make them to haue relation vnto the person speaking, as thus, Io hò desideráto il túo cómmo, la túa commodità, i tuói cómmodi, le túe commodità, or thus. La túa essortatióne hà mutáto il mio disségno, i miēi disségni, la mia opinióne, le mie opinióni, &c. Yet note that the Participles ioyned vnto any tence of the other Auxiliar verbe Éssere, doe commonly agree with the Nominatiue case, as in that verbe shall appeare.

Of the future Tence or time to come.

Io hauerò, haurò, or harò.

tù hauerái, haurái, or harái.

lúi hauerà, haurà, or harà.

nói hauerémo, haurémo, or harémo.

vói haueréte, hauréte, or haréte.

lóro haueránno, hauránno, or haránno.

Of the vse of this Tence, and what may thereby be learned.

The chieftest thing to be obserued in this Tence, is, that whosoeuer hath the terminations or last sillables of this tence of any verbe, hath also those of the future tences of all verbes of what coniugation soeuer of the Italian tongue without exception: For, all first persons singular must end in Rò with the accent ouer the last vowell, as thus. Io amerò, Io vederò, Io scriuerò, Io morirò, &c.

All second persons singular must end in Rái. with the accent ouer the last A. as Tù amarái, Tù vedrái, Tù scriuerái, Tù morirái, &c.

All third persons singular must end in Rà. with the accent ouer the last vowell, as Lúi amerà, Lúi vederà, Lúi scriuerà, Lúi morirà, &c.

All first persons plurall must end in Rémo, with the accent ouer the last vowell sauing one, as Noi amerémo. Noi vedrémo. Noi scriuerémo. Noi morirémo, &c.

All second persons plurall must end in Réte, with the accent ouer the last vowell sauing one, as Vói ameréte, Vói vedréte, Vói scriueréte, Vói moriréte, &c.

All third persons plurall must end in Ránno, with the accent ouer the last vowell sauing one, as Lóro ameránno, Lóro vedránno, Lóro scriueránno, Lóro moriránno, &c.

And so all the rest both regular and irregular; alwaies remembred that in verbes of the first coniugation, the last A. of the Infinitiu moode in this tence must be changed into E. and in steede of Amarò, Danzarái, Cantarà, Andarémo, Saltaréte, Mangiaránno, the best Italians vse to say and write, Amerò, Danzerái, Canterà, Anderémo, Salteréte, Mangieránno, &c. whereas all those of the second, third, and fourth coniugations doe euer keep the last vowell sauing one of the Infinitiu moode in framing of this tence, as Io tacerò, Tù correrái, Lúi scriuerà, Noi vederémo, Voi dormiréte, Lóro moriránno. Yet note that the foure Irregulars of the first coniugation doe in this tence, keepe the A. of the Infinitiu moode, as Andarò. Darò. Farò. Starò. and so throughout, although the first is most times written and pronounced, Andrò, Andrái. Andrà. Andrémo. Andréte. Andránno. loosing the middle vowell. And so are diuers verbes of the second and third coniugations vsed more often sincopated of the middle vowell, yea sometimes of a whole sillable, then not, as namely, Haurò. Berò. Tèrrò. Scièrrò. Cadrò. Parrò. Potrò. Rimarrò. Varrò. Vedrò. Vorrò. Condurrò. &c. with some others, in steede of Hauerò. Beuerò. Tenerò. Scèglierò. Sciorglierò. Caderò. Parerò. Poterò. Rimanerò. Valerò. Vederò. Volerò. Conducerò. &c. and so throughout all the persons of this tence. I remember but one of the fourth coniugation, that is sincopated or varied in this tence, and that is in steede of Io morirò. &c. Io morrò. Tu morrái. Lui morrà. Noi morrémo. Voi morréte. Loro morráno.

Remember also that all third persons plurall of this tence, may at the pleasure of the speaker or writer loose the last sillable No. and in lieu of Ameránno. Vedránno. Scriueránno, Moriránno. They may say. Amerán'. Vedrán'. Scriuerán'. Morirán. For so much as N. is counted as a liquid.

Note also that placing the Aduerbe of time, Quándo, before any person of this tence, Hauerò, and the Participle of any verbe whatsoever, you frame and learne the Future tence of the Subiunctiue or potential moode of all Actiue or Transitiue verbes. As for example.

Io hauerò mangiáto.
Quándo. Tù hauerái danzáto.
Lúi hauerà vedúto.

Nói hauerémo scrítto.
Quándo. Vói haueréte vdíto.
Lóro haueránno dormíto.

As in it's due place shall more at large be shewed.

Of the Imperatiue moode or Commanding manner of speech.

Habbiámo nói.
Hábbi tù. Habbiáte vói.
Hábbia lúi. Hábbiano or Hábbino lóro.

Of the vse of this tence, and what may be obserued by it.

Concerning this moode no other rule can be giuen, but that it hath euer correspondency with the Present tences of of the optatiue and subiunctiue moodes, as being in a manner all one with them, sauing that the Imperatiue hath most commonly the Pronoun after the verbe, and they haue it before, except in questions, and that the Imperatiue moode wanted euer his first person singular. The terminations are all one, and therefore he that knowes the Present tence of the Optatiue of any verbe, knowes the same of the Imperatiue and Subiunctiue thereof, as elsewhere shall more particularly be shoven.

Note also that Imperatiuely and in commanding wise you may liew of this tence vse the Infinitiue of any verbe speaking to an equall or inferior person, or the second person plurall of the Present tence of the Indicatiue moode, speaking to one whom you will seeme to respect with this particle, Nón, before it. Whereas the English put euer the word Not, after the verbe, as for example.

Non hauére a mále	Non habbiáte a mále.
Non dormíre così tósto.	Non dormíte così tósto.
Non andáre vía.	Non andáte via.
Non ti scordáre di me.	Non vi scordáte di me.
Non te ne andáre.	Non ve ne andáte.

With some few verbes as namely Hauére, and Volére, you must in lieu of the second person plurall of the Present tence of the Indicatiue moode, vse the second person plurall of the present tence of the Optatiue moode, and say thus. Non habbiáte paúra. Non vogliáte partíre, &c.

Note also that the second person singular of all verbes of the first Coniugation in this tence, end euer in A. and the third in I. as for example. Ama tù. Cánta tù. Sálda tù. Mángia tù. &c. Ami lúi. Cánti lúi. Sálti lúi. Mángi lúi. &c. except the foure Irregular, as you shall perceiue in them. Whereas the second persons singular of the same tence of all verbes of the second, third, and fourth coniugations endeth euer in I. and the third in A. as for example. Védi tù. Córri tù. L'èggi tù. Scríui tù. Dórmi tù. &c. Véda lúi. Córra lúi. L'ègga lúi. Scríua lúi. Dórma lúi. &c. Of the three persons plurall of this tence I will speake in the Present tence of the Optatiue moode.

Of the Optatiue Mood or wishing maner of Speech.

Note first that whereas the Latins haue for a helpe or signe of the Optatiue or wishing moode the word, Vtinam: the French Dieu vueille, or Pleut á Dieu, and the English, God graunt, Would to God, Oh God that, or else, Oh that: the Italians haue in their Grammars placed these signes, Dio vóglia chè, Dio volésse chè, Piáccia a Dio chè, Oh Dío chè. All which indeed are good and true Italian. But for as much as they are not so generally vsed as this one, Ochè, I haue therefore throughout all this moode in all verbes vsed and placed no other signe or helpe, expressing fully as much as any of the rest, as for example:

The present or definite tence.

Io hábbia.	Nói habbiámo.
O chè: Tù hábbi.	O chè: Vói habbiáte.
Lúi hábbia.	Lóro hábbiano.

Of the vse, and what may be obserued in this tence.

First it is to be noted, that all three persons Sing. of this tence, of all verbs of the first Coniugation, end commonly in I. as O che io ámi, Oche tù ámi. Oche lúi ámi, &c. whereas in the second and third coniugations the first and third persons end all in A. and the second in I. as thus, O chè io góda. O chè tù gódi.

O chè lúi góda. or Ochè io scríua. Ochè tù scríui. although some make them to end all in A. which is not greatly amisse: whereas all three persons Sing. of the fourth coniugation end in A. or O chè Io dórma. O chè tù dórma. O chè lúi dorma, &c.

The three persons Plu. of this tence of verbes of the first coniugation, are commonly framed thus: To the first person Sing. which is Ami, adde euer Amo, and that makes the first Plu. as Amiámo. Danziámo. Mangiámo. Saltiámo, &c. To the said first person Sing. adde euer Ate, and that makes the second Plu. as Amiáte. Danziáte. Mangiáte. Saltiáte, &c. To the said first person Sing. adde euer No. and that makes the third Plu. as Ámino. Dánzino. Mángino. Sáltino, &c. The same rule doth serue for the verbes of the second and third Coniugations: so that you change the A. into I. or take the second person Sing. of this tence of them all, as of Gódi, or of Scríui, which make in the Plu. Godiámo, Godiáte. Gódino. Scriuiámo. Scriuiáte. Scrúino, &c. The three persons Plu. of this tence of verbs of the fourth Coniugation, are framed by adding Ámo. Áte. and No. to the second person Sing. of the present tence of the Indicatiue mood, which euer ends in I. or thus by changing the A. of the Sing. of this tence in I. which makes Dormiámo. Dormiáte. Dórmino, &c.

Note also as an especiall thing, that whosoeuer hath the present tence of the Optatiue moode of this verbe, hath also (as hath beene said) first the Imperatiue moode, by placing the Pronoune after the verbe; Secondly he hath the present tence of the subiunctiue mood; Thirdly, only by adding any Participle vnto it, he hath the determind Preterperfect tences of the Optatiue and of the Subiunctiue moods of all actiue or transitiue verbes, as thus, Io hábbia amáto. Tù hábbi vedúto. Lúi hábbia scritto, &c. Nói habbiámo saltáto. Vói habbiáte létto. Lóro hábbino dormíto, &c. Fourthly, he hath also the future tence of the Optatiue moode of all actiue verbes, by placing this Aduerbe of time, Da qui inánzi, after the verbe, as you shall see in its place. So that whosoeuer hath this present tence, or of any verbe else, hath sixe tences, and nothing is left him to learn but the imperfect or vndetermined tence, which he may learn by this ensuing tence, which also sheweth the tence called respectiue of the subiunctiue mood.

The Preterimperfect or vndetermined tence.

Io hauéssi.

Nói hauéssimo.

Ochè Tù hauéssi Ochè

Oche. Tu hauessi. Oche. Vói hauéste.
 Lúi hauésse. Lóro hauéssero or hauéssino.

Of the vse of this Tence.

First remember that who hath the terminations of this tence, hath also the same tence of all verbes of the second & third c[on]iugations (except of Éssere, as in his place shal appear) w[hich] is framed by the infinitiue moode, by leauing out the last sillable Re. and adding Ssi. for the first and second Sing. Sse. for the third Sing. Ssimo. for the first Plur. Ste. for the second Plur. and Ssero. or Ssino. for the third Plur. as Io vedéssi. Tù sapéssi. Lúi corrésse. Noi godéssimo. Vói Leggéste. Lóro Corréssero. or Corréssino. &c. And changing the E. of this tence into A. he hath the same tence of all the verbes of the first coniugation, as thus. Io amássi. Tù cantássi. Lúi saltásse. Nói amássimo. Vói cantáste. Lóro saltássero. or Saltássino. &c. And changing the said E. into I. he hath the same tence of all verbes of the fourth coniugation, as thus. Io vdíssi, Tù patíssi, Lúi dormísse, Noi vdíssimo, Voi patíste, Lóro dormíssero, &c.

Secondly, note that in steede of the wishing signe, O chè, vsing, Se, chè, Benchè, Purchè, or Quándo, or any of them, he hath also the conditionall Preterimperfectence of the Subiunctiue moode of all verbes actiue. And putting any participle vnto it, he hath first the preterpluperfectence of the optatiue, and then the first or conditionall preterpluperfectence of the subiunctiue moode of all verbes actiue, and of all coniugations, as in their proper places may apeare.

Thirdly, note that all third person plur. of this tence may loose the last vowell O. and you may as well say, Amásser', Amássin', Hauésser', Hauéssin', Dormísser', &c. as Amássero, Amássino, Hauéssero, Hauéssino, Dormíssero, &c.

The Preterperfect or Determined tence.

Io hábbia hauúto. Nói habbiámo hauúto.
 O chè. Tù hábbi hauúto. O chè. Vói habbiáte hauúto.
 Lúi hábbia hauúto. Lóro habbino hauúto.

The Preterpluperfect or vndetermined tence.

Io hauéssi hauúto.
O chè. Tù hauéssi hauúto.
Lúi hauésse hauúto.

Nói hauéssimo hauúto.
O chè. Vói hauéste hauúto.
Lóro hauéssero hauúto.

The Future tence or time to come.

Io hábbia.
O chè. Tù hábbi. da qui inánzi.
Lúi hábbia.

Nói habbiámo.
O chè. Vói habbiáte. da qui inánzi.
Lóro hábbino.

Of these three tences little neede be said, forsomuch as I haue already spoken of them in the vse of the Present tence of this verbe, to which I referre your Maiestie.

The Subiunctive, Dependent, or Potentiall moode, whose proper signes or helps, are euer, Chè, Se, Benchè, Pur chè, Acciochè or Quándo, without some one of which it neuer commeth, one tence excepted.

The Present or Deffinite tence whose helps or signes are, Chè, Benchè, Purchè, or Quándo.

Io hábbia. Nói habbiámo.
Chè. Tù hábbi. Chè. Vói habbiáte.
Lúi hábbia. Lóro hábbiano or hábbino.

Little neede be said of this tence because it hath been spoken of before.

The first Conditionall, Doubtfull, Dependent, or vndetermined Preterimperfectence, whose helps are, Se, Chè, Benchè, Accióche, Purchè, or Quándo.

Io hauéssi.	Nói hauéssimo.
Se. Tù hauéssi.	Se. Vói hauéste.
Lúi hauésse.	Lóro hauéssero or hauéssino.

The second respectiue, relatiue, or limited Preterimperfect tence, which doth euer eyther expressiue or inclusiue answer or regard the former, which I call conditonall or doubtfull, and hath no signe or helpe.

Io hauerèi. haurèi. harèi. hauería. hauría. or haría.

Tù hauerésti. haurésti. or harésti.

Lúi. hauerèbbe. haurèbbe, harèbbe. hauería. hauría. or haría.

Nói hauerémmo. haurémmo. harémmo. haueríamo. hauríamo, or haríamo.

Vói haueréste. hauréste, or haréste.

Lóro hauerèbbero. haurèbbero. harèbbero. hauerèbbono. haurèbbono.
harèbbono. haueríano, hauríano, or haríano.

Of the necessary vse of these two tences, and what may be obserued vpon them.

These two tences are so frequent and ordinary in vse both in speaking and writing, namely of things, accidents or actions that be doubtfull, contingent, potentiall, in suspence, vncertaine, or that may be, of which men oftener vse to speake and write, then of things or actions already past, certain, determined, and undoubted. And there is such coherency and dependency betweene them, and they haue such relation and respect one to the other, that they are seldome separated or farre asunder: and if they be (as they are often) they are notwithstanding relatiuely, respectiuely, and inclusiue meant or vnderstood. And I could yet neuer see Grammar that did directly set downe eyther the true difference betweene them, or demonstrate the right vse of them, yea most Grammarians are so simple, as they make then both one and indifferent, when the difference is most great, and the seuerall vse of them most necessary to be knowne, which is this, that the first hath euer one of these signs or helps before it, as Se, if, or if so be, Chè, that, Benchè, albeit, Acciochè to the end that, Purchè, so that, Quándo, when or if. And the second as hauing relations or respect & answer to the former, hath no signe at all. And that is the reason that I haue named them by their effects; the first conditionall, doubtfull, dependent or vnlimited, and the second, respectiue, relatiue, or limited. The first you shall neuer heare or fine without the second, eyther spoken, written, or specifed, though the second be sometimes written or spoken without the first, yet is it euer more meant, vnderstood, and some condition implied or included. And there is no tence in the Italian tongue, where English men commit more incongruities. And remember what is said of these two tences, the like may said of the two ensuing Preterpluperfect tences, not onely of this verbe, but of all other actiue verbes, as they that are composed of the two former, with the addition of any Participle.

Note also that knowing the termintion of the second respectiue or relatiue, you learn to frame the said tence of all other verbes, and of all coniugations, as for example, Io amerèi or amería. Tù amerésti. Lui amerèbbe or Amería. Nói amerémmo. Vói ameréste. Lóro amerèbbero. Amerèbbono, or ameríano. Io vederèi, or vedería. Tù vederésti. Lui vederèbbe or vedería. Lóro vederèbbero, vederèbbono, or vederíano. Io leggerèi, or leggería. Tù leggerésti. Lui leggerèbbe, or leggería. Nói leggerémmo. Vói leggeréste. Lóro leggerèbbero, leggerèbbono, or leggeríano. Io dormirèi, or dormiría. Tù dormirésti. Lui dormirèbbe or dormiría. Nói dormirémmo. Vói dormiréste. Lóro dormirèbbero, dormirèbbono or dormiríano, &c.

Lóro hauerèbbero, or Haueríano hauúto.

For the vse of these two tences, I referre you to the two former Preterimperfect tences, from which they are composed.

	Lóro haueránno hauúto.

Of the vse of this tence.

Change but the Participle, and take that of any other verbe whatsoever, and you frame the same tence of all actiue or transitiue verbes, as thus, Quando io hauerò mangiáto tù hauerái vedúto, lúi hauerà spedíto. Nói hauerémo létto, vói haueréte corrétto. Lóro haueránno sentíto, &c.

The present Infinitiu or vndetermined moode.

Hauére.

The past or preter Infinitiu or vndetermined mood.

Hauére hauúto.

The future or indetermined Infinitiu moode.

Hauére ad hauére, Douére hauére, Éssere per hauére.

Of the vse of these three Infinitiuies, and what is to be obserued by them.

First you may learne to frame all other Infinitiuies, as thus: Those of the first coniugation by changing the middle E. of this into A. with the accent euer vpon the last A. as Amáre, Balláre Cantáre, Danzáre, Mangiáre, &c.

Those of the second coniugation, by keeping the termination of this verbe, with the accent vpon the last E. sauing one, as thus, Cadére, Vedére, Godére, Parére, Tacére, &c.

Those of the third coniugation by keeping the termination of this verbe, with the accent ouer the last vowell sauing two, as thus, Córre, Lèggere, Estóllere, Nuócere, Náscere, Scríuere, &c.

Those of the fourth coniugation by changing the middle E. of this Verbe into I. with the accent ouer the said I. as thus, Dormíre, Moríre, Patíre, Soffríre, Vbidíre. Veníre, &c.

Secondly note, that to frame the future infinitiu of any verbe, you must take the Infinitiu present of this verbe Hauére, and before any other Infinitiu beginning with a vowell, ioyne Ad. and before a consonant A. as thus. Hauére ad amáre. Hauére a scríuere. or else take the Infinitiu Douére or Éssere pèr, and place them before any other Infinitiu present, as thus. Hauére ad amáre. Douére amáre. or else Éssere pèr amáre. Hauére a scríuere. Douére scríuere. Ésser pèr scríuere. and so of all the rest.

Note also that all Infinitives may at the pleasure of the speaker or writer loose the last vowel E. and in steede of Amáre, Godére, Córre, or Dormíre, you may say, Amár', Godér', Córre', or Dormír', &c.

Note also that all Infinitive moodes may be made substantives (as among nouns hath beene said) which admit no Article but the Masculine, agreeing with Nouns, with Verbs, with indeclinable parts, and with all cases, as for example, L'amáre è cosa naturále. Il fáre béne è laudábile. Il túo descináre mi cósta cáro. Il tróppo dormíre non è sáno. In vn báttiere d'ócchio, &c. all which Nouns or manner of speech the English expresse very elegantly with a gerond, as thus. Louing is a naturall thing. Doing good is commendable. Thy dinner or dining cost me deare. Too much sleeping is not wholesome. In the twinkeling of an eye &c.

Note also that certain Infinitives of the third coniugation doe in the midst of them sometimes loose a letter and sometime a sillable, whereby they become irregular not only in the Infinitive, but also in the Future tense of the Indicative, and in the second or respectiue Imperfectence of the subiunctive moode, as also many times in the Participle. As for example, Sciógliere, maketh, Sciórre, Sciorrò, Sciorrèi, and Sciólto, Scègliere, maketh, Scièrre, Scièrrò, Scièrrèi, Scièlto, Tógliere, maketh, Tórre, Torrò, Torrèi, Tólto, Béuere, maketh, Bére, Berrò, Berrèi, Beúto, Ponere, maketh, Pórre, Porrò, Porrèi, Pósto, with all his compounds, as Compórre, Dispórre, Frapórre, Espórre, Oppórre, &c. Dúcere, makes, Dúrre, Durrò, Durrèi, Dútto, with all his compounds, as Addúrre, Condúrre, Dedúrre, Prodúrre, Ridúrre, Sedúrre, Tradúrre, &c. Fácere, maketh, Fáre, Farò, Farèi, Fátto, with all his compounds, as Confáre, Disfáre, &c. and so becommeth of the first coniugation: Dícere, maketh, Díre, Dirò, Dirèi, Détto, with all his compounds, as Disdíre, Ridíre, &c. and becommeth of the fourth coniugation.

Note also that the Italians haue a great liberty and facility to frame certaine verbes of the first coniugation, whereby they may elegantly declare, forcibly expresse, and significiently inforce the quality, action, condition, or the nature of any thing, person or creature, which is by adding, ggiáre, or záre vnto any Noun (alwaies prouided it end in E.) be it of Person, Office, Beast, Bird, or any thing else aliue or dead. As for example. Caneggiáre, to play the Dog. Carnealeggiáre, to Shroue. Nataleggiáre, to keep Christmasse. Lioneggiáre, to play the Lyon. Dottoreggiáre, to play the Doctor. Villeggiáre, to liue in the Countrey. Pasqueggiáre, to keepe Easter. Porcheggiáre, to play the Swine or wallow in filth. Pasteggiáre, to fare well as if one were still eating of pasties. Vaccheggiáre, to play the Kow or sensuall beast. Vescoueggiáre, to play the Bishop or idle Prelate. Volpeggiáre, to play the Foxe or crafty companion, and so infinite others which a man may frame at his pleasure or humour.

Note also that the Italians make some verbes end in Acchiáre, which are spoken either in ill part and derision, or else in signe of pouerty and compassion, as Viuacchiáre, to liue poorely, as we say to rub out the world. Scriuacchiáre, to scribble simply or write foolishly. Sonnacchiáre, to slumber or not to sleep soundly. Pacchiáre, to feede like a Hog, or play the Hog. Basciucchiáre, to kisse smackingly or slouenly. Stiracchiáre, to wrest in ill part, and infinite others as pleaseth mans fansie.

Of the Participle, which is as an act, effect or performance of the Verbe.

The present or neare participle.

Hauúto, or Haúto.

The past or distant participle.

Hauére hauúto.

Of the vse of these Participles.

First note that all participles of verbes of the first coniugation must end in Ato. and you may frame them by taking Re. from the Infinitiue, and in steede of it put To. vnto it, with the accent ouer the last A. as Amáto. Balláto. Cantáto. Mangiáto. &c. except that of Fáre, which makes Fátto.

Note also that some haue vsed the first person singular of the Indicatiue moode for a participle of some verbes (and it is tollerable) as Cómp^o. Mózz^o. Pést^o. Sól^{co}. Tócc^o. &c. in place of Compráto. Mozzáto. Pestáto. Solcáto, Toccáto. &c.

Note that the participles of the second and third coniugation (notwithstanding all variations) doe generally end in V'to, and may be framed by taking Ere. from the Infinitiue, and putting V'to vnto the same with the accent ouer the V'. yea there are many verbes that haue no other, as Dolúto, Godúto, Hauúto, Nociúto, Pasciúto, Possedúto, Taciúto, Téssúto, &c. as also, Parúto, Vedúto, Piangiúto, Nasciúto, &c. For Párso, Víst^o, Piánt^o, Nát^o, &c. whose variations, and which of them is most in vse, are euery one set downe in my Dictionaire, ioyned vnto the Infinitiuē, and here vnder among the Irregular verbes: indeede there are some of the third coniugation that haue altogether lost their ending in V'to, as Cínto, Dúttó, Circoncíso, Cólto, Cótto, Dipínto, Decíso, Fínto, Pósto, Róttó, Sciéltó, Sciólto, Tínto, Vccíso, &c. of Cíngere, Dúrre, or Dúcere, Circoncídere, Cógliere, Cuócere, Dipíngere, Decídere, Fíngere, Pónere, or Pórre, Rómpere, Sciégliere, or Sciérre, Sciógliere, or Sciorre, Tíngere, Vccídere, &c. except Éssere, which makes Státo. although some haue vsed Súto. but more in verse then in prose, Fáre sincopated of Fácere, makes Fátto, Díre, of Dícere, makes Détto, &c.

The Participles of the fourth coniugation end commonly in Íto. with the accent ouer the last vowell except Attónito, which hath it vpon the last sauing two, as Addolcító, Fallító, Dormító, Fastidító, Patító, Vbidító, Vscító, Vdíto, &c. of Addolcíre, Dormíre, Fallíre, Fastidíre, Patíre, Vbidíre, Vdíre, Vscíre, &c. Apríre, Conuértíre, Copríre, Moríre, Soffríre, make Apèrto, Conuerso, Coperto, Mórto, Sofferto, for you may not say, Aprító, Copríto, Morító, Soffríto, although Conuértito be sometimes vsed, &c.

Note that ioyning any Participle vnto Hauére, you frame the past Participle of all verbes actiue, as Hauére amáto. Hauére godúto. Hauére scrítto. Hauére vdíto. &c. Concerning the Participles ending in Ánte. or Énte. whereof the Latines are so well stored, the Italians make but little vse of them, and may well spare them; for, it were but harsh and vnused Italian to say, Beáto il temènte Iddío, è credènte álla súa paróla, è speránte nelle súa promésse, or thus. Io víddi úno saltánte cóme vn párdó. A good Italian will rather say Beáto chi téme Dío, è créde álla súa paróla, è spèra nelle súa promésse, and Io víddi vno chè saltáua cóme vn párdó, &c. Of the variation, of the vse, or diuersly accommodating of Participles, as either vnto the party speaking, spoken of, spoken vnto, thing meant or mentioned, hath already beene spoken in the Indicatiue of this verbe.

Of the Gerond or signe of the acting or dependant doing of the verbe.

The present or neare Gerond.

Hauéndo.

The past or distant Gerond.

Hauéndo hauúto.

The future Gerond.

Hauêndo ad hauére, Douêndo hauére, Essêndo pèr hauére.

Of the vse of these Geronds.

Note that all Geronds of the first coniugation must end in Ándo. as Amándo, Cantándo, Mangiándo, of Amáre, Cantáre, Mangiáre, &c. with the accent euer ouer the last vowell sauing one, except that of Fáre, which makes Facêndo.

Those of the second, third, and fourth coniugation ought euer to end in Êndo. as Vedêndo. Tacêndo. Leggêndo. Scriuêndo. Dormêndo. Morêndo. &c. The E. being pronounced open.

The past Geronds of all verbes actiue are framed by adding any present participle vnto Hauêndo, as Hauêndo amáto. Hauêndo godúto. Hauêndo scrítto. Hauêndo dormíto, &c. and all past Geronds of verbes passiue are framed by adding any present participle vnto, Essêndo. as Essêndo amáto. Essêndo feríto. Essêndo vedúto. Essêndo tèssúto, &c.

Note that the Italians doe many time in expressing the past Gerond, leaue the helpe of Hauêndo in actiue verbes, and of Essêndo in passiue verbes, vsing in place of them both in speaking and writing only the present Participle, placing it in the beginning of the sentence, as thus, Hauúto il mio libro me ne andái á scuóla. Fátta colatióne io vádo á spásso. Státo a Róma trè mési me ne tornái á cása. Which is as good as to say, Hauêndo hauúto il mio líbro me ne andái a scuóla. Hauêndo fátta colatióne io vádo a spásso, or Essêndo státo a Róma trè mesi me ne tornái a cása, &c.

Note that all future Geronds may be framed by adding any Infinitiu moode vnto, Hauêndo ad, before a vowell, or Hauêndo a, before a consonant, or else, Douêndo, or else, Esêndo per, as thus, Hauêndo ad amáre. Hauêndo a lèggere. Hauêndo a scríuere. Douêndo godére. Douêndo mangiáre. Douêndo moríre. Essêndo pèr vdíre. Essêndo pèr partíre. Essêndo pèr vedére, and so of all others.

Pardon me, I beseech you Maiesty, if I haue beene somewhat ouer-long about this verbe, of which much more might be said: the necessity of it is such as no man can truely speake or write Italian without it, and knowing this verbe perfectly, he may boldy assume to know and frame all other verbes.

Of the second Auxiliare and most necessary verbe Êssere

OF THE SECOND AUXILIAR AND MOST NECESSARY VERB ESSERE.

Forasmuch as this verbe Éssere is irregular, and yet as necessary and of as much vse for coniugating of passiue verbes in the Italian tongue, as Hauére is for actiues, I haue therefore set it downe, and how it ought to be vsed, as also what vse may be made of it, both in speaking and writing, and according to the method vsed in Hauére, for the naming of tences; the rather for that it is most absurdly and falsly set downe in all the Grammars that are seen in England, desiring your Maiesty to make Hauére your rule, and directorie for names of moodes and tences, for the vse and difference of them, as also for the helps and signes to them.

La dónna è státa ingrauidáta. Gli ingánni sóno státi scopèrti. Le Amazóne sóno státe dónne bèllicose, &c. How the Participle of this verbe is to be vsed, hath bene declared before in the second or determined Preterperfectence of the Indicatiue, and examples giuen. And after this manner may all other passiuue verbes be framed and coniugated.

Note also that the Italians haue another way to frame passiuue verbes, which is by adding, Si, either before or after the third persons singular or plurall of any verbes, alwaies remembred that you speake of or haue relation vnto things dead, as before hath bene touched speaking of the Particle, Si. as for example. Si áma. Ámasi. Si ámano. Ámansi. Si véde. Védesi. Si véggono. Véggonsi. Si scríue. Scríuesi. Si scríuono. Scríuonsi. Si óde. Ódesi. Si ódono. Ódonsi. Si amáua. Amáuasi. Si amáuano. Amauánsi. Si amò. Amóssi. Si amórono. Amóronsi. Si è amato. Éssi amáto. Si sóno amáti. Si fù amáto. Si fúrono amáti. Si amerà. Amerassi. Si ameràno. Ámisi. Áminsi. O che si ámi. O che si amásse. Se si amásse. Si amerèbbe. Amerèbbesi. Purche si sia amáto. Se si fósse amáto. Si sarèbbe amato. Quándo si sarà amáto. Amársi. Essersi amato, amáti, amáta or amáte, according to the Genders or Numbers not onely in this, but in all other tences. Essendosi amáto. Douèndosi amáre. Amátosi. And after this manner are many impersonall verbes to be coniugated.

Of Impersonall verbes.

The precedent passiuue verbes seeme to be verie like Impersonals, and to haue sone affinitie with them, both because they are framed after one manner with the adiunct of the Particle, Si, eyther before or after; as also because they haue onely the third persons. But they are easie to be knowne by their signification, which euer differs in construction and is alwaies without the Nominatiue case, as also by the number which is euer singular. They haue bene deuided into Actiue and Passiue impersonals. The chiefest Actiue are these. Si appartiéne. Appartiénsi. Si conuiéne, or Conuiénsi. Si dèbbe. Dèbbesi. Si díce. Dícesi. Si disdíce. Disdícesi. Si confà. confássi. Si può. Puóssi. Si cerca. Cárcasi. Si vuóle. Vuólsi, Vsed passiuely by Dánte when he said, Vuólsi così lassù dóue si puóte quél ché si vuóle.

All which may be vsed passiuely, as thus, Acconuiénsi a nói L'èsser modèsti; or Non si dèbbe fár così. &c. Some there be that may be vsed without. Si, as thus. Accáde. Auuiéne. Bisógna. Cále. Duóle. Incrésce. Interuiéne. Lice. Occórre. Souuiéne. Tócca, &c. Some haue only the third person singular, and no part else, as these. Égli fólgora. Égli lampéggia. Égli néuega. Égli néua. Égli pióue. Égli tuóna. Which among some Poets haue also bene vsed personally, as, Dà bègl'ócchij vn piacér si cáldó pióue, or thus: Pióuonmi amáre lágrime dál viso. How the Impersonall Passiues be coniugated, hath bene shewed in, Si áma. Si véde. Si scríue, &c.

Of the chiefest Irregular verbes of the first Coniugation.

I haue already noted that of the Italian verbes some may be reduced vnder certain infallible rules, and therefore are called regular, of which who can coniugate but one, may by the same (knowing but the Infinitive moode) frame and coniugate all of that coniugation. It remaineth that I say something of those that either much or little vary and differ from the said rules, and are therefore called irregular. Of the first Coniugation there are but foure, that is to say, Andáre, Dáre, Fáre, Stáre, which are irregular but in some tences, namely, in the Present tence and first Preterperfectence of the Indicative moode, and in the Present tence of the Optative moode, and consequently in that of the Subiunctive and in the Imperative. The rest of the tences are all regular, sauing the first or conditionall Imperfectence of the Optatiue and Subiunctiue moode, of Dáre, Fáre, and Stáre, as for example.

The Present or Deffinite tence of the Indicatiue moode.

Because there be some of these verbes that sometimes varie from the rest, and are sincopated in the Future tence of the Indicatiue moode, and in the second or respectiue Preterimperfect tence of the Subiunctiue moode, I haue set downe the first persons of the singular of both those tences, leauing the other persons as being easie to be framed by the first as in Hauére you may see more at large in those two tences.

The future tence of sincopated verbes.

Io corrò. Of Cógliere.
Io durrò. Of Dúrre.
Io porrò. Of Pónere.
Io scièrrò. Of Scègliere.
Io sciorrò. Of Scógliere.

Io trarrò. Of Trárre.

The second or Respectiue Preterimperfect tence of the Subiunctiue moode of sincopated verbes.

Io corrèi or corría.

Io durrèi or durría.

Io porrèi or porría.

Io scèrrèi or scièrría.

Io sciorrèi or sciorría.

Io torrèi or torría.

Io trarrèi or trarría.

And so of all the compounds of Dúrre or Pórre, which are diuers, as Addúrre, Condúrre, Dedúrre, Prodúrre, &c. and Appórre, Compórre, Impórre, Propórre, Trapórre, Soppórre, and many others. All which may be learned by one.

Note that if among these irregulars, I haue omitted any, you may be resoluèd of them in looking but the Infinitiuè moode in my Dictionary.

I haue not set downe the Presentence of the Optatiue and Subiunctiue moode as being all one, because they may all be framed by one rule, which is by changing the last, O, of the first person singular of the Presentence of the Indicatiue moode into, A, and then you haue all the three persons singular of the said Presentence of the Optatiue and Subiunctiue, to frame the first plurall change the A, of one of the singular into, I, and adde, Amo, to the same, to frame the second plurall, doe the like and ioyne, Ate, vnto it, and to frame the third plurall, adde, No, vnto any of the said three persons singular, as for example. O che io cáda, tù cáda, lúi cáda, Nói cadiámo, vói cadiáte, loro cadáno; and so of all the rest, as well of the second as of the third Coniugations.

Of the irregular verbes of the fourth Coniugation.

The chieftest irregular verbes of the fourth Coniugation are, Apríre, Conuertíre, Copríre, Díre, Gíre, Instruíre, Ire, Moríre, Offríre or Offeríre, Salíre, Sofferíre or

All which varie onely in the Present tence, and first Preterperfect tence of the Indicatiue moode, and in the Presentence of the Optatiue, and Subiunctiue moode, and in the Participles. All other tences are regular, and knowing the Infinitiue moode, you may easily frame them by Dormíre.

Apríre, Conuertíre, Offeríre, and Sofferíre, are in this tence regular, and may be framed as all the rest by Dormíre: The Imperatiue moode hath such coherencie with this, as I say nothing of it.

The Participles of this Verbe, are Apèrto.

Copèrto.
Détto.
Instrútto.
Mórto.
Offèrto.

The rest are all regular, and to be framed by the Infinitiuve moode, as Dormíto of Dormíre, Conuertito, Gíto, Íto, Salíto, Vdíto, Vscíto, &c. sauing Instruíre, which makes Instrútto.

Note that Moríre is sincopated in two tences, that is to say, in the future tence of the Indicatiue, and in the second or respectiue Preterimperfect tence of the Potentiall or Subiunctiue moode; for instead of Morirò, Morirái, Morirà, Morirémo, Moriréte, Moriráanno, Morirèi, Morirésti, Morirèbbe, Morirémmo, Moriréste, Morirèbbero, you may say, Morrò, Morrái, Morrà, Morrémno, Morréte, Morránno, Morrèi, Morrèsti, Morrèbbe, Morrémmo, Morrèste, Morrèbbero or Morrèbbono.

Note that besides the abovesaid verbs there be also some other of the said Coniugation, which some haue put in the rancke of irregulars, for so much as they make vse of this sillable Sco, in foure persons of the Present tences of the Indicatiue, and of the Optatiue and Subiunctiue moods, that is to say, the three persons singular, and the third plurall, of which whosoever can coniugate one, knowes how to coniugate and frame the rest, all other tences being regular, and to be framed by Dormíre, the chiefest of which are.

at your pleasure say eyther, Fállo or Fallísco, Fórbo or Forbísco, Inghiotto or Inghiottísco, Ménto or Mentísco, Óffro or Offrísco, Páto or Patísco, Péro or Perísco, Piáto or Piatísco, Sóffro or Soffrísco, &c.

Of Íre and Gíre.

Forasmuch as these two verbes Íre and Gíre, which in signification be but one, are very irregular, and want some tences, and yet are much in vse among good Authors, I thought it not amisse to set them downe, and how they are to be coniugated.

And thus much I thinke sufficient to haue spoken of Verbes, wherein if I haue been ouer long, I humbly beseech your Maiesty to pardon mee, and impute it as well to your owne gracious commandement, as to the necessary vse of them: for, as your sacred selfe well knowes, there is no part of speech so necessary to be known, and as farre as I could euer read, heare or see none more imperfectly and poorely set downe in other Grammars or Rules of the Italian tongue. And if any accuse mee to haue vsed some vnusuall and new names for some Verbes, Tences or Moodes, be it lawfull for mee to runne for refuge vnto your Royall protection, that haue euer so graciously beene pleased to grace and approoue them. And be but your Maiesty pleased, I care not greatly who be displeased. But Madam let me now say something of the Indeclinable Particles or Immutables as parts of speech very essentiall, and so frequent in vse, that no man can speake fiue words without some of them.

Of the Indeclinable Particles or Immutable parts of speech.

The immutable Particles or Indeclinable parts of speech haue heretofore of most Gramarians beene reduced into foure chiefe and seuerall squadrons, of them called, Aduerbs, Coniunctions, Prepositions and Interiections, and euery one of them subdiuided into other heads (namely the Aduerbs, as being the maine battallion of them all) according to the import, signification or effect of them (a thing much to be respected both by the speaker or writer.) Now for as much as these Particles hauing no affinity or dependancy or (as I may say) deriuation of the Latine tongue, are many in number, often and much in vse, and most-most necessary, as well for the true vnderstanding, as for the right speaking of the Italian tongue, I haue here for your Maiesties more ready vse and seruice made a collection of most of them (for the number of them is infinite) and Alphabetically set them downe vnder their seuerall heads, which as yet I neuer saw done by any. And first of Aduerbes or phrases and locutions that are

Aduerbially vsed, which are sometimes

*Of place or locall, or as some haue called them of motion.
Of time or vicissitude, or as some haue valled them of succession.
Of quality, of similitude, of order or degree and fashion.
Of quantity, of proportion of relation or discretion.
Of deniall or refusall.

Of certaine Prepositions seldome or neuer used alone.

Note that the Italians make frequent use of certaine Prepositions, Particles, or as some call them, Affixes or Adiuncts, whereof some are seldome, and some others, neuer vsed alone, either in speaking or writing, but commonly and for the most part are affixed and ioyned unto Verbs, and sometimes unto Nounes in the beginning, which make that infinite number of compounds used in the Italian tongue, alening and inforcing the Primitiues to which they are affixed, according to the power, worth or signification that such Prepositions haue in the Latine tongue, from which most of them are deriued and taken. A thing, in mine opinion, most-most necessarie to be knowen, and which I could yet neuer see noted or collected by any that hath treated of that tongue. Prepositions or Particles vused many times for ornament.

There are in the Italian tongue certaine Prepositions, Adiuncts or Particles, without which the sence is good, and the construction easie: But yet being well placed and fitly vused they ad much grace, elegancy and ornament vnto the speech, and which may by circumlocution be expressed in other languages, but not with that propriety and emphasis as in the Italian, and these are the chiefest.

Bén, or Béne, E', Egli, or Ei, Già, Ne, Or' vel Óra, Pur' or Púre, and Si, as for example. Bén' or Béne, is expressed in English with any of these words, Forsooth, Indeed, Insooth, Marry Well or Verily, as thus, Bén mi paréua stráno, Indeed it seemed strange to me, E', Egli, or Ei, are expressed with the English Particle, It, namely in the beginning of a sentence, and speaking of any thing and no person, as for example, E' mi páre una grán cósa, It seemeth a great thing vnto mee, Egli nol saprà mái persóna, No body shall euer know it, Ei si dice comuneménte, It is commonly said, &c. Già, is expressed in English with, Now, Already, Whilom, of Yore, of Old, or Quondam, as for example, Non già ch'io sáppia, Io son gia venúto, Fù già un pittóre, and infinite others.

Ne, hath beene spoken of before in it's place, and although some make it but an ornamentall particle, yet may it be reduced vnder certaine infallible Rules and Significations, Or' or Óra, is expressed in English with, Now, and in the beginning of any Diction or Oration addeth great grace to the speech.

Púr' or Púre, is expressed in English with these words, yet, for all that and sometimes with, also neuerthelesse or notwithstanding, as for example. Stà púr' a vedére, stay yet and see, Tù sèi púr gíonto, thou art come for all that, Púre ci vénne alla fine, notwithstanding he came yet in the end, and many such others.

Of Sì, hath beene spoken before, which although it seeme but an ornament, yet may it be reduced vnder the Rules and Significations aboue said.

Of the Particle Chè.

There is no one word in the Italian tongue that is more frequent and more often vsed, both in speech and writing, then Chè, and that by reason of it's many, diuers, and different significations, whereof I could yet neuer see any direct exposition or Rules set downe.

And therefore haue I for your Maiesties more certainty and easie vnderstanding of it, taken some paines about it, and haue set downe the various significations thereof, as the most necessary and also most difficult word that the Italians haue.

1 Chè, is sometimes a Pronoune Relatiue, both with and without an Article hauing reference vnto all Cases, Numbers, and Genders, signifying in English, that, who, whom, which or which thing, as for example, Il Dío ch'io adóro, la bontà ch'è in lúi, I cièlí ch'è s'aggíranó, le stéllé ch'è rispléndono, la t'èrra ch'è scálda il sóle, Ciò ch'è non féce máí huómo, Égli díce di volér voláre, il ch'è dà marauíglia ad ogniúno, Di ch'è ciascúno si fa b'èffe, Al ch'è niúno consènte, Da ch'è ogniúno si guárda, Elle dícono cófe ch'è fánno stupíre ogniúno, a ch'è niúno dà féde, Ch'è niúno créde, Da ch'è ogniúno s'allontána, &c.

2 Chè, in the Nominatiue case without signe or Article serueth for the Interrogation, What? as for example, Chè fáí? Chè vai cercándo? Chè te ne páre? &c.

3 Chè, serueth often for a beginning of a Narration or entrance into it after the Preface, as thus, Díco dúnque ch'è chi nón téme Dío non è sauío, &c.

4 Chè, serueth sometimes for a clause preceding the Present or Perfect Tence of the subiunctiue Moode, signifying in English, That, That so, as thus, Ti prégo ch'è il túo nemíco del túo male non rida, óch'è tú non sij burláto, &c.

5 Chè, serueth very often for an Aduerbe or Coniunction of yeelding reason of what hath beene said or done before, or that may be said and done heereafter, as also for continuing of sense and discourse, or for concluding of sense and reason, and serueth in stead of P'èrchè, P'èrcioch'è, Imperoch'è, or Conciosia ch'è, in English, For, Because, or Forsomuch as thus; L'ánima ch'è sola da Dío è fátta gentile, ch e gia d'altrui non pu o venir t l gr tia, &c.

6 Ch e, sheweth sometimes the clause of what may happen, and serueth for Affin ch e, or Accio ch e, That, To the end, Left that; but then commonly it requireth Non to follow it, as for example, Non f re, ch e non te ne auu nga male,  t ch e non sij punito,  t ch e non te n  p nti, &c.

7 Ch e, is sometimes doubled, and serueth for Ciascuna c sa ch e, what thing soeuer, whatsoever, or what euer, as thus; Cheche si d ca, or Cheche ne s gua io lo v oglio p r f re, &c.

8 Ch e, is often placed for the beginning of Narrations, or Chapters, or Verses, importing in English, For, as thus; Ch e il diam nte   pi  d ro di t tte le g mme, Ch e il ci lo   pi  d ro ch'il diam nte, Ch e l'oro   incorrottibile ab eterno, &c.

9 Ch e, is often vsed for the signe of a comparison, in English, then, or then that, as for example. Aug sto f  pi  felice ch e C sare, Il diam nte   pi  d ro ch'il f rro o che l'acci io, being most vsed thus alone when the sentence hath but one Urbe, for if it haue more, than the Italians vse Ch e non, as hath before beene declared.

10 Ch e is often found to serue for the Aduerbe of time, Qu ndo, when, or at what time, but then the diction or sentence must beginne with any present Participle, and Ch e must immediately follow the same: as for example; Leu to che sar  mi v stir , Torn to che sar i vienmi a trou re, &c.

11 Ch e, serueth sometimes for the Aduerbe of exception, But, Sauing, Except: as for example; Io non s ruo che una Regina, non t mo che un D o, Non  mo che una d nna, T  non s i bu no ch e a far m le, &c.

12 Ch e, is many-many times ioined and affixed vnto other particles and indeclinables, and with them made as one word and distinct part of speech, which although they haue already beene set downe in their places among the Aduerbes and Coniunctions, yet, for your Maiesties better remembrance, I thinke it not amisse to place them heere Alphabetically, at least so many as I can remember:

And infinite others which the discretion of the Reader or Speaker may easily obserue, finde out, and make vse of. But these are the chieftest, and most in vse.

And this is as much of the immutable Particles, or indeclinable parts of speech, as I with my industrious labour, carefull diligence and long teaching haue obserued, for your Maiesty, of which if some haue beene noted in more places then one, impute it to their diuers natures and sundry significations, according to which they are diuersly placed. And if in this tract I haue not giuen the English to euery word, nor englished all phrases and examples, it hath beene for feare of making the booke ouer great, and because you may easily find euery word Englished in my Dictionary. And if notwithstanding I haue beene ouer long and tedious, impute it (I humbly beseech you) to the frequent and most necessary vse of all I haue noted: for, without the perfect knowledge of it, no man shall truly vnderstand, or perfectly speake the Italian tongue: and because I could yet neuer see these my rules and obseruations exactly set downe, or so much as but glanced at by any that hath written of that language.

Thus committing your Sacred Maiestie (for whom only I haue aduentured to declare and publish what I know, and by the experience of fiue and thirtie yeeres teaching (and euer the greatest Nobilitie of this Land) haue obserued and learned of this so noble, and of all Nations so highly esteemed language) to the euer holy protection of the most-most good and Almighty God, I heartily beseech his eternall Maiestie, in this transitorie world to blesse and prosper, and in that to come, eternally to crowne your Highnesse in his new Ierusalem: And that I may euer continue in your Imperiall Maiesties good and fauourable opinion, as your euer most vnfaigned, most humble and inuiolable seruant.

Resolute, I. FLORIO.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG-tm concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for the eBooks, unless you receive specific permission. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the rules is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. They may be modified and printed and given away--you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG LICENSE
PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg-tm mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase "Project Gutenberg"), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg-tm License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg-tm electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg-tm electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. "Project Gutenberg" is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation ("the Foundation" or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg-tm mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg-tm works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg-tm name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg-tm License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg-tm work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country outside the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg-tm License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg-tm work (any work on which the phrase "Project Gutenberg" appears, or with which the phrase "Project Gutenberg" is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you'll have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this ebook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg-tm electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase "Project Gutenberg" associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg-tm trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg-tm electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg-tm License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg-tm License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg-tm.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg-tm License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg-tm work in a format other than "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg-tm web site (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original "Plain Vanilla ASCII" or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg-tm License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg-tm works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works provided that

- * You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg-tm works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg-tm trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."
- * You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg-tm License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg-tm works.
- * You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- * You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg-tm works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg-tm electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from both the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and The Project Gutenberg Trademark LLC, the owner of the Project Gutenberg-tm trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg-tm collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain "Defects," such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the "Right of Replacement or Refund" described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg-tm trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg-tm electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg-tm work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg-tm work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg-tm

Project Gutenberg-tm is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg-tm's goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg-tm collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg-tm and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non profit

501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's principal office is in Fairbanks, Alaska, with the mailing address: PO Box 750175, Fairbanks, AK 99775, but its volunteers and employees are scattered throughout numerous locations. Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg-tm depends upon and cannot survive without wide spread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg Web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg-tm electronic works.

Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg-tm concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg-tm eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg-tm eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our Web site which has the main PG search facility: www.gutenberg.org

This Web site includes information about Project Gutenberg-tm, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.
